Finning Holdings in £100m sales rise

CANNOCK Caterpillar equipment supplier Finning Holdings has increased turnover by more than £100million.

The company, which has its headquarters in Watling Street and employs more than 1,500 staff, is the supplier of Caterpillar construction and mining equipment.

Bosses today said a full year of trading in Ireland and an increase in sales of new equipment are behind the increased turnover, which has helped it break the £500m mark.

Highest

A directors' report show turnover increased from £414m in 2010 to £529m, with sales in coal and plant hire sectors the highest. It comes after sales fell by more than £100m in 2009.

Equipment sales are up 22.5 per cent for 2011. Finning Ireland also recorded improvements, contributing £23.9m to turnover. Finning has been working with Caterpillar since 1933. Recently it was announced the firm was to start providing vehicles for underground mining.

The company already provides vehicles for open-cast mining, and the move was said to be a significant expansion for the firm.

Since the year end, Finning UK has made some acquisitions, including engineering firm Damar Group.

Drive along track forest

A CHANCE to see Cannock Forest from a different perspective is being offered to 4x4 fans this weekend.

Owners of 4x4s can follow a Forestry Commission guide in their vehicles, an opportunity laid on only three times a year.

Tours last a minimum of 2 hours and cost £50 per vehicle.

Insurance for off-road driving is essential. The tour starts at Birches Valley Forest Centre, near Rugeley, at 9.30am.

MP's multicultural tweet was 'idiotic', says Prime Minister

Aidan Burley - criticised

THE Prime Minister has branded as "idiotic" Aidan Burley's description of Danny Boyle's Olympic opening ceremony as "multicultural leftie crap".

The Cannock Chase MP, who was forced to quit as a ministerial aide after attending a Nazi-themed stag do last year, delivered the barb on Twitter during the £27 million show at the Olympic Stadium on Friday.

David Cameron, speaking at the Olympic Park this week, said: "I did once say something about people who use Twitter, particularly politicians, and I think in this case I was absolutely spot on.

I think what he said was completely wrong. It was an idiotic thing to say."

Mr Cameron said: "People would have looked at that ceremony and said, 'of course there are some things in Britain they have left out that I might like in', but we all cannot be the art director of the Olympic Games opening ceremony.

Tribute

"I thought it was a brilliant effort to bring it together, our past, our future and the vibrancy of the country and the incredible contribution."

On Friday Mr Burley tweeted: "The most leftie opening ceremony I have ever seen - more than Beijing, the capital of a communist state! Welfare tribute next?"

Shortly afterwards he added: "Thank God the athletes have arrived! Now we can move on from leftie multicultural crap. 'Bring back red arrows, Shakespeare and the Stones.'"

After a barrage of abuse on the social network, he tweeted: "Seems my tweet has been misunderstood. I was talking about the way it was handled in the show, not multiculturalism itself."

Cannock's former Aston Villa footballer Stan Collymore tweeted that Mr Burley was a "fool".

Surveyor defends scheme for 700 homes

THE developers behind a proposed development of 700 homes in Hednesford have defended the plans, following protests.

Hednesford Green Heath councillor George Adamson and former councillor Graham Burnett have both criticised the development, which will also include a new school, shops and road west of Pye Green Road in the town.

So far there have been two petitions and 58 letters opposing the proposal, citing concerns over traffic, noise and the proposed number of low-cost homes.

Approved

Commenting on the proposed development off Pye Green Road, St Modwen senior planning surveyor Mike Timmins said: "The 14 per cent level of affordable housing planned for the development is in line with Cannock Chase Council's approved policy."

"A total of 54 per cent of the total planning application site is proposed to be open space in line with the adopted Development Brief."

If plans are given the go-ahead, 225 of the houses are set to be delivered between 2013 and 2016.

Turbine 334ft high planned

A 334ft TURBINE will be built in Shenstone under plans revealed this week. Charles Wylie, owner of Thickbroom Farm, wants to install the turbine on his land off Little Hay Lane.

Neighbours fear it will be an eyesore that will blight the countryside around Little Hay, Weeford and Shenstone. Mr Wylie hopes to generate electricity for the next 20 years.

Farmer Roy Bartlett, aged 61, who grows vegetables in the neighbouring farm in Park Lane, said the turbine would be only a few feet away from his house.

BOY RACER FIGHT SEES CARS SEIZED

CARS are being seized as part of a crack-down on speeding drivers using busy town centre roads in Cannock as a race track.

Police have launched extra patrols pending an application to the High Court for greater powers to deal with the problem.

Officers in marked and unmarked cars are targeting Watling Street and Eastern Way, where groups of drivers regularly race at speeds "far in excess" of the 50mph speed limit which is in place on parts of each route.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe revealed he hoped to apply for the extra powers - which could see speeding drivers fined or jailed for up to two years if caught - within two months.

But he warned motorists flouting the law in the meantime they would be punished.

"As we build all the evidence for the injunction, we will be running extra patrols in marked and unmarked cars," Ch Insp Ratcliffe said.

"We will be taking a very robust approach to any offences that are committed, ranging from driving dangerously, speeding, and offences relating to the condition of the vehicle."

"Where necessary, we will be seizing cars - we seized one at the weekend. It's difficult to say how quickly we can get the injunction, but we have already amassed some good evidence. We want to be in a position to present our case to court within the next couple of months."

By Mark Mudie

It was revealed this week that large groups of drivers were congregating at Longford island and Orbital Retail Park before careering along two-mile long stretches of Watling Street and Eastern Way.

Police have launched an online survey to gather evidence in support of an injunction and say the boundaries of any court order will depend on feedback from residents and businesses.

Ch Insp Ratcliffe said residents in Cheslyn Hay had complained about noise caused by the racers.

Ashley Burton, aged 22, of Rugeley, was killed in a three-car crash after an accident at the Orbital ring road in 2010.

Pupils bag hottest ticket in town

PUPILS from a Norton Canes primary school had the hottest tickets in town for the Olympic opening ceremony.

Jerome Primary youngsters helped form a guard of honour as athletes made their way through the Olympic Village and into the stadium, where 80,000 people and millions more worldwide watched Danny Boyle's spectacular event.

They joined youngsters from 246 schools across the UK to make up the 2,000-strong guard of honour, holding lanterns they had made at school.

Teacher Sara Jones said: "The whole ceremony was amazing - the children were mesmerised from start to finish. They cheered their socks off for the athletes and got lots of signatures and pin badges. The athletes were excited and really interacted with the children, who have gone away inspired with the memories of the day which will stay with them forever."

Boats flow back after dam repairs

FIFTEEN more than two years and a £5.5 million dam repair bill, boats have begun returning to Chasewater reservoir.

Water sports enthusiasts have started to get back to their hobbies at the popular tourist site.

The repair project was taken on by Staffordshire County Council in May 2011 after the reservoir was drained for safety reasons. Experts feared a breach could flood nearby homes. Following the heavy rainfall in recent months, the reservoir is now half-full – a level reached much quicker than anticipated and enough for the Chase Sailing Club to use it again.

Chase Watersports Centre hopes its members will be back in action soon. The plug went back in on the 200-year-old dam, which is 1,837ft long, last October. Steve Shepherd, chairman of the club said: "Our last two years has been spent renovating the club and changing facilities as we've not been able to use the reservoir."

"We certainly didn't expect the water levels to rise as quickly as this. Now we're back on the water."

Staffordshire County Council cabinet member for environment

Mark Winnington said: "Chasewater is a major asset to Staffordshire and a big draw for people from across a much wider area. The council stepped in to complete the dam repair work as it was a sizeable job but one which needed completing as soon as possible. Repairing the dam was vital as there were real safety concerns, but we also wanted to see the reservoir fully restored."

Memory of park to help £2m bid

RESIDENTS are being invited to a coffee shop to share their memories of Hednesford's park to help make £2 million improvements.

A project team from Cannock Chase Council is putting together a bid to secure the money from the Heritage Lottery Fund and Big Lottery Fund to pay for major improvements to Hednesford Park and the war memorial.

As part of this, they are seeking to gather as much information as possible about the history of both the park and also the war memorial.

More than 4,000 people have already had their say on how £2.6 million should be spent to re-develop Hednesford Park.

Improved

Under the plans, the pavilion would be extended on two storeys and a horticultural training area would be created, allowing volunteers to get involved in the park's upkeep.

Car parking would be improved and increased to cater for the expected increase in park users and railings, gates and pillars would be restored.

Julie Shires, the council's research officer, will be at Bella's Coffee House, in Market Street, on August 14 to hear people's memories and thoughts, between 2pm and 4.30pm.

Fire victim figures fall

DEATHS and serious injuries from fires at home have fallen to their lowest-ever level in Staffordshire.

A total of 27 people were killed or seriously injured in 2011/12 – down from 270 in 1999. Six died and 21 were badly hurt. The 10-fold drop in casualties comes against a background of cuts to the fire service and a rise in the number of road deaths.

Fire and rescue chiefs credit the fall to their ongoing fire prevention campaign. The figures relate to the 12-month period between March last year and April this year.

Chief fire officer Peter Darnford said: "This confirms our absolute belief that the prevention activities we undertake sees an enormous return."

Patience call to drivers over bus station work

MOTORISTS using the A34 Ringway in Cannock have been asked to be patient while a £50,000 scheme to improve the town's bus station goes ahead. Work started on Monday and is scheduled to last for three weeks.

Grant plea to groups

COMMUNITY groups in need of money are being urged to apply for £8,000 which has been made available by the town council.

Burntwood Town Council's Grant Aid Scheme is open for 2012 applications and the chairman of the committee, councillor Sue Woodward said the council is looking for good ideas to bring services to the local community.

A total budget of £8,000 is allocated again this year and community groups are being encouraged to apply for financial assistance.

Forms are available from the council offices, in Bridge Cross Road. Call 01543 677166 or visit www.burntwood-tc.gov.uk.

Night riders help charity

BIKE riders took part in The Twelve Hour Challenge charity bike ride across Cannock Chase.

They started at 9pm on Saturday to raise money for a range of charities.

Before setting off, organiser Shaun Middleton said the ride was likely to be an endurance test for local fundraisers.

"Starting in daylight we intend to ride through the night with the moonlight to lead the way, and perhaps a torch or two," he said.

While buses will still be able to get in and out of the site, it will take longer to do so – having a knock-on effect on other traffic in the town centre.

County councillor Pat Corfield said: "Staffordshire County Council is carrying out essential safety work at the bus station."

"This is on behalf of the district council.

"This will involve improving the bus lanes and making crossings safer for pedestrians.

"Work has been programmed to take place during the school holidays so there is less disruption."

"It should take around three weeks and we'd ask bus users to bear with us during this time."

"Buses will still be able to get in and out of the station, it may just take a bit longer than normal."

Accident

The safety scheme comes following the death of 74-year-old Ann Draper in an accident at the station as she was being pushed in a wheelchair by her 76-year-old husband, Ray.

The couple were hit by a reversing coach at the bus depot, off Stafford Road. She died on August 20.

The inquest at Cannock Coroners' Court last August heard how the coach had not been able to park where the driver Gary Morgan wanted, because of parked cars and a minibus.

Mr Morgan said he had needed to move the bus to allow Mrs Draper to get on to the vehicle from a higher part of the kerb.

Performers are full of cheer

Members of South Staffs Cheer Stars get ready for their next competition

CHEERLEADERS from a newly formed group are gearing up to take part in national competitions next year.

Victoria Chilton from Burntwood set up South Staffs Cheer Stars 12 months ago, and membership now stands at 40.

The 31-year-old instructor is preparing to take her girls – aged from three-to-12 – into a national competition next year. To get the youngsters ready for their big challenge, Victoria has been taking them around local schools. They have performed at Hob Hill Primary in Rugeley, and at St Thomas More RC Primary Great Wyrley.

Victoria said: "We are working on them getting ready for a public display and they are enjoying the challenge."

The group meets at Unit 11, Advanced Business Park, Burdock Close, Hawks Green. Call 07838 386823.

Kick-off on street dancing sessions

A MONTH of street dance classes has kicked off at Burnwood Leisure Centre.

The hour-long Wednesday sessions cost 50p and kicked off yesterday (August 1) at the venue in High Street, Chasetown. They run until September 5 from 4.45-5.45pm and are open to ladies aged 16 to 25.

They have been funded through Sport England Active Women's Initiative and will include a range of hip hop dances to street music.

Jenni Williams, Lichfield District Council's positive futures officer, said: "As part of the Us Girls initiative, we're running this class to encourage more young women to get into sport and exercise."

There is no need to book. For more details, call 01543 308835 or email jenni.williams@lichfielddc.gov.uk

Register to vote call for residents

CANNOCK Chase residents have been urged to send back their voter registration forms to ensure they are eligible to vote in elections.

They will receive their electoral registration forms through the post earlier than usual this year to ensure the electoral register is as up-to-date as possible ahead of the first Police and Crime Commissioner elections on November 15.

Residents who do not receive their form should contact the electoral registration team on 01543 464754 or print one off at www.aboutmyvote.co.uk

Stephen Brown, Cannock Chase Council chief executive and electoral registration officer, said: "All you have to do is update the annual canvass form with details of everyone who lives in your household and is eligible to vote."

Jail over truancy

EDUCATION chiefs at Staffordshire County Council took 44 parents to court from April last year to July for failing to send their children to school. Two people were jailed though they had also breached previous suspended sentences. Total fines in the county totalled £7,129.

Cuts blamed for drop in visitor numbers

BUDGET cuts at Shugborough estate are to blame for plunging visitor numbers at the attraction, it has been claimed.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said Staffordshire County Council "knew the price of everything but the value of nothing" after it emerged visitor numbers were down 14 per cent year on year.

He was speaking as a member of the Cannock Ex-Servicemen's Club Male Voice Choir, which has appeared at Shugborough's candlelit Christmas evenings in previous years.

The events will not run this Christmas and will be replaced with a winter fair. Choir chairman David Rimmer said members had been left "very disappointed".

It was also revealed this week that four people at Shugborough had taken voluntary redundancy, two others were made redundant and one was redeployed as part of a restructure.

The county council said it needs to claw back cash from Shugborough as it is operating at a deficit.

In an unrelated blow, two showpiece concerts at the venue have been cancelled at short notice because organisers EMS Promotions have gone into liquidation.

Jools Holland and the National Symphony Orchestra were due to appear on August 18 and 19 respectively.

Councillor Adamson said: "It is a self-fulfilling prophecy - if you make cuts, you make it less appealing to go there and the visitor numbers drop. The people at the county council know the price of everything but the value of nothing and what they are doing is discouraging people from going."

"The worry is that they will end up closing Shugborough. It is a part of our heritage and it needs to be kept available for the people of Staffordshire to enjoy."

County council chiefs deny there are any plans to shut Shugborough but say the site cannot continue to make a loss. The fall in visitors comes despite the attraction enjoying a strong season last year.

Cabinet member for communities and culture, Councillor Pat Corfield, said: "We are obviously bitterly disappointed that these concerns have been cancelled due to EMS Promotions, which hired the Shugborough estate as the venue, going into liquidation. Our priority is to assist anyone who purchased tickets either from Shugborough directly or through the Stafford Gatehouse Theatre to receive a full refund."

"Undoubtedly many people will be upset that these events will not take place."

Weekly police call-out to park called a no-go zone

POLICE are being called to Cannock Park once a week because of crime and anti-social behaviour, officers have revealed. Residents claim that has become a no-go zone, with a group of around 20 youths causing trouble.

There have been 22 reports of anti-social behaviour and seven reported crimes since the start of the year - an average of four incidents per month.

Cannock Chase councillor Maureen Freeman said she has been a victim of abuse on more than one occasion.

"It started in March with a certain group of up to 20 who have been causing problems," she said.

"Myself and a friend suffered harassment and intimidation from some youths."

Kicking

"One of them has been served with a harassment order."

"They have been abusing the facilities there, playing football in the rose garden where we were sitting."

"They started kicking the ball deliberately at us. Their behaviour is appalling."

Many residents living in Park Road, Old Penkridge Road, and Stafford Road say their lives have been made hell by anti-social behaviour, and they were too intimidated to give their names for fear of reprisals.

One man said: "You have to be careful what you say. We live right by the park."

"There are always bottles and beer cans left over in the morning."

"They ride their motorbikes around the field, it can have quite an intimidating feel about it."

"They light paper and leave it to burn on the ground."

A woman in Stafford Road said: "I take my dog for a walk. When there is a gang there it can be a bit frightening and intimidating."

Chief Insp Carl Ratcliffe, of Cannock Chase Local Policing Team, said: "There have been some reports of anti-social behaviour within the park, and the Cannock Chase Community Safety Partnership is tackling this in a variety of ways, including increased patrols."

Date set for HS2 case

LEGAL challenges to the £33 billion high-speed rail project, HS2 will be heard before the end of the year. Lichfield District Council is among 15 launching a judicial review against the Government's decision to press ahead with it.

The councils' case against HS2 will be among five challenges to be heard together at the High Court of Justice from December 3. The hearing is expected to last seven days. Opponents of the scheme hope to persuade judges there has been insufficient consultation, the business case for the rail line is flawed and the plans breach environmental legislation. It comes after fresh plans for a major junction of the HS2 line at Fradley near the city were revealed earlier this month.

Oh, they do like to beside... Rugeley

MORE than 500 people turned out for the spectacular fun-filled Rugeley by the Sea annual event.

An old-fashioned Punch and Judy Show kept the children entertained, along with donkey rides, face painting, a juggler and a stilt-walker.

The centre piece was an Olympic-style sandpit, filled with coloured play sand.

Rugeley DJ Duncan Edwards kept the crowds entertained on Saturday with a range of music, while people walked around a wide-range of market stalls.

The day was put on by Rugeley Traders Association and its chairman, Chris Green, said "This was Rugeley at its best, happy faces, a place to meet and chat amongst friends."

"We were glad to be creating great memories for young and old in the town".

Angi Cooney, vice-chairman said: "We were delighted that so many people came out to enjoy the day - it makes all the hard work and effort worth it." Treasurer Bob Dipple said: "This is what the community of Rugeley raise funds for through the Rugeley Lotto. Without them buying their tickets every month events such as these would not be possible."

NEWS in brief

Charity benefits from Olympics

A NATIONAL charity based in Cannock is to benefit from a fund-raising initiative inspired by the Olympic Games.

The Midlands Co-operative Society's local food stores will be flying the flag for Britain and the Midlands in aid of the Newlife Foundation.

A number of shops across Birmingham and the Black Country will be holding fundraising activities throughout the Olympics period and beyond.

Newlife is the Midlands Co-operative's staff-elected charity for the next two years. All the money raised during this period will be used to buy specialist disability equipment for children living in the company's trading area.

IN COUNTRYFILE (BBC1), the lithe and lovely Julia Bradbury referred to the "unexpected hills" of Shropshire. This suggests she did about as much homework before visiting Shropshire as some of her BBC colleagues did before the Thames Jubilee Pageant.

Hills are unexpected in Shropshire in much the way that cream teas are unexpected in Devon and Yorkshire pudding takes you entirely by surprise in Ilkley.

THE truly inspirational thing about Bradley Wiggins, which ought to be studied by his hordes of Lycra-clad fans on British roads, is that he managed to win the Tour de France without once jumping a red light, scattering pedestrians on the pavements or coming up the inside lane and resting his sticky hand against your nice clean car.

I DO not follow The Archers (Radio 4) but caught a random snatch from the latest supposedly shocking storyline about assault, intimidation and livestock mutilation. The snag is that this everyday story of country psychos is governed by Auntie Beeb's language rules for daytime taste and decency. Which means there's a lot of bloomin' flippin' blighters doing flippin' bloomin' 'orrible things in Ambridge, but none of it even vaguely resembles real life or real language. I was reminded of Ben Elton's spoof version of Grange Hill when, dressed as a schoolkid, he looked into the camera and asked: "Why are we the only 14-year-olds who never say ****?"

IT WAS bad timing that treasury minister David Gauke chose to thunder forth about how it is "morally wrong" to pay tradesmen in cash and avoid VAT the day after the Tax Justice Network reported that the world's richest people are hiding up to 30 trillion dollars in tax havens. We would have to prosecute half a million small-time tradesmen fiddling £2,000 a year on VAT to recover the same sum as the £1 billion salted away by a global-class tax evader. Hammer the Mr Bigs, Mr Gauke, and then we'll listen to your views on morality.

A PAL has had a new high-security front door installed. It is built around a steel frame and has three internal bolts, two chrome-steel hooks, one lock which can be double-locked with a key and another lock on a keyless catch. It cost a packet and is deeply impressive and probably 100 per cent burglar-proof. Sadly, it's such a faff to lock the damn thing that he tends to leave it open.

Delight as rare birds return to breed

RARE birds have returned to a holiday park in Rugeley after setting up home last year.

A pair of pied flycatchers raised a brood of five chicks in a nest box at Silvertrees Holiday Park, Stafford Brook Road, on Cannock Chase.

The holiday park's owners sought advice from Staffordshire

WildlifeTrust after spotting a male pied flycatcher inspecting nest boxes at the site last year.

A further 10 boxes were installed, and this year the bird returned and set up home in one of the boxes with its mate.

Owner Trevor Barber said: "We were really excited when a pied flycatcher turned up at Silvertrees, adding to the already impressive list of species we have here, and even more delighted when they chose to breed in one of our nest boxes.

Declined

"A member of the local bird-ringing group has been along to ring the chicks, and they are the first pied flycatcher chicks to be ringed on the Chase."

Trust chief executive Guy Corbett-Marshall said: "The insect-eating pied flycatcher is a summer visitor to the UK from sub-Saharan Africa, but sadly populations have declined in recent years, so it is really encouraging to see this pair nesting on Cannock Chase."

Portable pitch helps to tackle holiday fire risk

A PORTABLE sports pitch that slashed arson in Staffordshire by 83 per cent during a trial period earlier this year has been bought for £23,000 by fire service bosses.

By Mark Mudie

The "street stadia" will be rolled out in Cannock, Rugeley and Stafford over the summer break and subsequent school holidays to tackle anti-social behaviour and reduce the number of deliberately started fires.

Chiefs have hailed the impact of the pitch, which was introduced on a pilot basis for about a month earlier this year around Easter.

As well as achieving the huge reduction in arson attacks, a 29 per cent fall in anti-social behaviour reports was recorded by Staffordshire Police.

Best

It came after more than 100 deliberately-set fires and 250 anti-social behaviour incidents were logged in Cannock Chase during Easter 2011.

This year around 500 youngsters used the portable pitch when it toured the district between March 17 and April 14.

Fire service community liaison officer Ruth Haigh said: "We are working with the police to work out the best places to set the pitch up - parks where there has been a history of children being a bit bored and getting up to a bit of mischief.

"We are really pleased with its success, although we have to be a bit careful - there were other factors.

"For instance, the weather was not as good over Easter as it was last year.

"And it's not just about arson, it's also about giving children something positive to do."

Introducing the pitch - roughly the size of a tennis court, with net walls - for the pilot month cost £2,244. Responding to arson attacks in the Cannock Chase district over the same period the previous year had cost £63,000.

The arena can be laid and used by youngsters for football, volleyball and dodgeball.

The results of the pilot in Staffordshire mirror findings from elsewhere in the country, where anti-social behaviour dropped 30 per cent within a half-mile radius of where it was available for use.

Sail in to club open day

ASPIRING sailors are invited to try out a variety of boats when Greensforge Sailing Club holds its open day. The small club, at Calf Heath, by Gailey Reservoir, is hosting the event on August 11.

Organiser Andi Way said: "To mark this Olympic year we are offering people the opportunity to try out sailing in lots of different kinds of boats. We are open to all ages. The open day is an opportunity for you to come and see the club, have a walk around the lake, watch the sailing boats and, of course, have a go in a sailing dinghy.

The club is situated off Vicarage Lane accessed from the A5 on the Cannock side of Junction 12 of the M6. For further details contact 07977 003991.

Jody takes all-stars challenge

Wolves star Jody Craddock, front centre, in training with members of his charity team at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre, along with their mascot

WOLVES star Jody Craddock is managing a team of football fans that will go head-to-head with Aston Villa All Stars, including Mark Kinsella and Lee Hendrie.

The 37-year-old defender is player/manager of the team and has been putting players through their paces at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre.

Fans have bought the right to play in this weekend's match, which will raise money for the Balls for Cancer charity.

The team of ex-Villa stars includes Kinsella, Hendrie, Mark Walters and Gordon Cowans. Kick-off will be at Bilston Town Football Club on Sunday at 2pm.

Jody, whose youngest son Toby has undergone treatment for leukaemia, said: "I got involved in Balls to Cancer through a friend of mine.

"Obviously we are up against a team of ex-professionals and it will be tough.

"There are some decent players in my team, though, and the game itself is about having fun and obviously raising money.

Tickets are available from www.ballstocancer.co.uk or on the gate.

Dyslexia school is praised for work

A LICHFIELD school, which helps youngsters suffering with dyslexia, has been short-listed for national awards.

Maple Hayes Dyslexia School beat hundreds of entries to make The Times Educational Supplement (TES) shortlist.

The school uses an alternative method to teach literacy to pupils with dyslexia who are unable to grasp the widely-taught phonics approach.

It was nominated in the Outstanding Special School of the Year and Outstanding Literacy Initiative categories for its unique teaching methods and curriculum.

Despite not winning the titles, the school was praised by judges for its innovative approach to teaching literacy.

It uses a special method to break down parts of words, enabling youngsters with dyslexia to overcome their reading, writing and spelling difficulties.

A school spokesman said: "We were absolutely honoured to feature on this year's TES shortlist - the awards really are the hallmark of success in the teaching industry, so to have our school selected is incredibly humbling.

"The calibre of the short-listed schools was phenomenal. It was just fantastic to have our hard work recognised at such a prestigious ceremony."

Trench tour at museum

A SERIES of guided trench tours will be held at the Staffordshire Regiment Museum in August.

The attraction, based at the Whittington Barracks in Whittington, is holding the tours through its First World War trench system at 10am, 11am and 12pm each Monday.

Bee more aware

NATURE lovers can brush up on bees at two walks in Staffordshire.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's bee expert Ron Rock will lead the walks at Wolsley Centre in Wolsley Bridge, between Rugeley and Stafford, on August 8 and 22 at 2pm. Places can be booked by calling 01899 880100.

Battle of bracken is beginning

WORK has started to fight bracken on Cannock Chase, considered one of the biggest threats to wildlife in the area of natural beauty.

The highly invasive plant can smother other heathland plants, which are important to birds such as nightjar and woodlark, reptiles and insects including green hairstreak butterflies and the green tiger beetle.

Teams are now out spraying bracken on well-marked areas of the Chase.

County councillor Mark Winnington, cabinet member with responsibility for the environment, said: "This is essential work to help the ecosystem of Cannock Chase and will build on the success of the past decade of hard work. Workers will only be active in small pockets of land at any one time."

"The areas of closure will be kept to a minimum and we thank the public in advance for their understanding, especially during the summer holidays. Without this work the Chase would suffer."

Traditional bracken clearing such as grazing and cutting for animal bedding are no longer practised.

"Work to protect the rare wildlife of Cannock Chase must continue if we are to safeguard this area for both today's and future generations of Staffordshire people," Councillor Winnington added.

Gardeners go on show

MEMBERS of Burntwood Gardening Club are holding their annual show on Saturday. They will showcase beautiful blooms at Burntwood Institute, Rugeley Road, Burntwood.

The event will be open from 2pm to 4.30pm and will feature domestic and floral art sections. Admission is free and there will be a raffle, tombola, cake stall and refreshments.

Voucher offer

GREAT Wyrley Parish Council is offering vouchers to children in the village to get reductions on activities at South Staffordshire Council's leisure centres during the summer holidays. They cost £1 and entitle youngsters to two hours of activities. Visit www.sstaffs.gov.uk/sussed or call the council on 01922 414768 for details.

Council powers to stop boy racers extended

BOY racers will be fined or locked up for two years if they are caught careering along certain roads in Burntwood after a council won court backing to extend its powers.

Lichfield District Council has had its injunction to curb "fast and furious" driving extended indefinitely by Birmingham County Court.

It follows a rise in reports of late-night speeding from residents.

The order now covers a number of roads, including Cannock Road, High Street and Highfields Road. It means anyone found congregating and racing on roads on the outskirts of Burntwood could be fined or sent to prison.

Councillor Colin Greateorex, Lichfield's cabinet member for community, said: "As the council is a key member of Lichfield District Safer Community Partnership, we are delighted the court has extended the injunction to put a stop to car cruising around Burntwood."

"This type of reckless high-speed street driving is noisy and worrying for people living near to the roads used. It is also extremely dangerous for the drivers, passengers and anyone who could be in the area. This is why we applied to extend the injunction to make sure the police and council have the appropriate powers to tackle this reckless behaviour."

Injunction

"Anyone caught car cruising in and around Burntwood will have their name added to the injunction."

"If they are then caught again, they will be taken to court, and if found guilty could face a fine or a prison sentence of up to two years."

The injunction will not expire unless it is challenged in court.

Insp Darren Oakley, of Lichfield district's local policing team, said: "The injunction defines car cruising as a congregation of drivers, of two or more vehicles, between the hours of 7pm and 7am on the roads outlined."

"Other unacceptable activities include car racing, shouting or swearing, blocking off roads, dropping litter, playing loud music, sounding horns and more."

Weekend closure is mooted for restaurant at hospital

THE RESTAURANT at Stafford Hospital could close at weekends as part of money-saving measures, it emerged today.

The idea of reduced opening hours at Nightingale Restaurant was first raised back in December. Staff and volunteers said they had now been told that closure on Saturdays and Sundays was the main option.

The issue of how to save money on catering at Stafford and Cannock hospitals will be discussed by the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust board tomorrow.

Councillor George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase Council, is among the volunteers who offer up their time at Stafford.

He said, as well as closing the Nightingale site on weekends, another cash-cutting option is closing the kitchen at Cannock and cooking all patient food at Stafford.

Meals would then be reheated at Cannock.

Appalling
"Some visitors spend long hours at the bedside of sick relatives at weekends and the idea that they would not be able to get a hot meal is appalling," Councillor Adamson said today.

He also criticised the proposal to close the kitchen at Cannock.

"This appears to be part of a general downgrading of Cannock Hospital," he added.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust has to make savings of six per cent over the coming year and the following two after that.

The trust today would not comment on the weekend closure of Nightingale Restaurant but confirmed it was looking to cut the catering budget.

Bar opening for Olympics coverage

Danielle Marsh and Vicky Shayler from Funki Feathers promote the Olympic coverage at Bar Sport, Cannock

A CANNOCK sports bar in Cannock has launched its very own Olympics opening ceremony.

Bar Sport in High Green is screening every one of the events live in HD and 3D on its 50-plus screens around the venue.

The venue has a flag for every competing nation on its ceiling and walls and customers will be able to enjoy special Olympic themed meals and cocktails.

Showgirls sporting eye-catching costumes were on hand at the bar to promote the opening of the Games last Friday.

Momentous

Owner Scott Murray, who was a top amateur heavyweight boxer, said he would have a close eye on that sport in particular.

He said: "The Olympics is always a momentous occasion but when it's on your home soil it is even more special."

"We will be showing every event live on our HD and 3D screens."

"Everyone at Bar Sport is really looking forward to what should be a very memorable sporting event."

Leader joins fight over scheme for 700 homes

THE leader of Cannock Chase Council has joined a tide of opposition against plans for a 700-home development in Hednesford.

By Harry Gottschalk

Councillor George Adamson, who represents Hednesford Green Heath, said there were too many houses people would not be able to afford in the development, which includes a school, shops and road west of Pye Green Road.

Two petitions and 58 letters opposing the proposals have been submitted citing concerns over traffic, noise and the proposed number of low-cost homes.

If the plans are given the go-ahead, 225 of the houses are set to be built between 2013 and 2016, with the other 525 from 2017 onwards.

Councillor Adamson said there will be too many houses that many people will not be able to afford. He said: "I am concerned about how many houses there are and how the local infrastructure will cope. "There is a low level of social housing, and I am not sure they will be meeting the needs of the local community. I wonder if the local schools will be able to cope. There is a school in the plans, but it is entry level only."

Hednesford businessman, and former councillor Graham Burnett, who lives in Station Road, has been one of the most vocal campaigners against the plans.

He said the land should be protected as green space for the people of Hednesford.

"I think it is a step too far," he said. "It should be protected as open green space, and plans like this should be kept within certain urban boundaries."

Seventy of the houses will be one-bedroom, 140 will be two, 210 will be three, another 210 will be four and 70 will be five. The council said 14 per cent would be affordable housing.

Stephen gets timely piece of good news

Stephen Bott from Cannock with a 1880 clock

LORRY driver Stephen Bott, from Cannock, was delivered some good news when he took his Vienna wall clock to be valued at the Antiques Roadshow when it was being filmed at Wightwick Manor, Wolverhampton, last week. The expert said it could fetch £1,000 at auction.

The clock dates back to around 1880 and used to belong to Mr Bott's grandfather, Erik Hollingshead, who bought it at auction from Penkridge.

Mr Bott, aged 48, said: "I had no idea how much it would be worth. The expert said it was between £700 and £800 but could sell for £1,000 at auction. I'm very happy with that. "I thought it was going to be worth around £400."

Fire students rewarded

STUDENT firefighters in Staffordshire have received awards after successfully completing a skills course. The youngsters, aged 12 to 14, from schools around the district, took part in a passing out parade at Cannock Community Fire Station, Hednesford Road. They carried out a demonstration of practical skills.

Response to terror alert on M6 cost taxpayer £11k

Calendar Girls set date

LADIES from a Cannock drama group will be losing their inhibitions – and their clothes – in a production of the popular Calendar Girls.

Cannock Chase Drama Society will be presenting its own version of the true story at the Prince of Wales Theatre.

The comedy was made famous by the hit 2003 film starring Helen Mirren and Julie Walters.

It is based on 11 WI members who posed nude for a calendar to raise money for the Leukaemia Research Fund.

Last year, screenwriter Tim Firth agreed to release the show for amateur productions as well.

Director of the Cannock show Julie Hunter, who also stars in the production, said: "The cast are having a wonderful time rehearsing the play and the script is guaranteed to make people laugh, cry and come out singing Jerusalem."

The show takes place on September 13, 14 and 15. Tickets are £10 and £9 for concession and the shows commence at 7.30pm each night, with an additional matinee at 2.30pm on the Saturday afternoon.

A MAJOR emergency services operation caused by an electronic cigarette that shut the M6 Toll for five hours cost the taxpayer more than £11,000.

Bomb disposal experts, police armed response staff and specially trained search officers were deployed amid fears of a suspected terror crime when it was reported that a bus passenger was pouring liquid into a smoking bag.

The entire 27-mile toll road was shut but it later emerged that the "smoke" was caused by an electronic cigarette.

More than 80 emergency service staff responded to the alert this month, including 38 staff from West Midlands Fire Service, 11 from the ambulance service and 44 police officers.

The cost of the response has totalled £11,014 although police and ambulance service officials have not released the cost of their responses.

Phil Loach, director of operations at West Midlands Fire Service, said: "Our priority is to protect the public."

"We were called at the request of the Central Motorway Police Group to assist with what was reported as a major security alert, and we responded according to the initial apparent risks."

During the huge response on July 4, passengers were ordered off the bus, owned by coach firm Megabus.

Staffordshire Police later confirmed there had been no threat to safety.

Asbestos dumped

FLY-TIPPERS have dumped asbestos in four areas of Lichfield district so far this month. Council bosses are appealing for help tracing the culprits after corrugated concrete asbestos panels were left by the roadside. Panels were left in St Matthews Road, Meg Lane and Coppy Nook Lane, Burntwood, and in Wall Lane in Wall.

Backing for plans appeal

WITH reference to the letter from AW Pike in the Chronicle 26th July 2012. We wholeheartedly agree with his comments as to the development of the Lyne Hill Estate.

We do need more competition to the current supermarkets and petrol station. Also more jobs and housing in the area and Lyne Hill is an excellent place for it.

With regard to the petition supposedly signed by 541 people, we have to say this petition leaves a lot to be desired. There were at least 100 names on the list that did not put their addresses on the forms, several names were duplicated and we think should be disregarded and some were even not in our area.

We have recently been to look at all the details as there is soon to be an appeal to the rejection of the planning application last year.

Both my wife and myself support this application and good luck for the appeal.

Prompt action on Portas cash deserved

IT HAS been much too long since Cannock Chase Council was gifted £100,000 from the High Street Innovation Fund following the Portas town centres review.

Mary Portas said she "wants to put the heart back into the centre of our high streets" and "to see all our high streets bustling with people, services, and jobs. Anything less is a wasted opportunity."

I don't see any imagination like this being yet shared by our current council leaders, so just what is the Labour administration doing with this windfall money while shops in Hednesford stand empty and our local traders continue to struggle with high rents and business rates?

This is no way to encourage redevelopment and the town deserves prompt action. The money could easily and quickly be used to discount business rates for eligible empty shops to help them develop and grow new business. All our traders could benefit and should have their say in the town's future. Surely by consulting with traders and landlords a simple scheme to use this money wisely could be developed. Let's not waste this opportunity.

It seems all Cannock Council has done so far is raise town centre parking charges and threaten further on-street parking fees to discourage shoppers from staying in our ailing towns.

Just a tiny plot on the world map

I SEE Mr Priest of Rugeley (Chronicle letters, July 19) is afflicted by the same liberal attitude of two of our main political parties in so much he and they would like Britain to be the diverse melting pot-come-Utopia of the world.

No one has asked the indigenous population of Britain for their views. By indigenous I mean the people who have made up these isles for a thousand years since the Norman invasion. Since the 1800s we have had the Irish influx and the Jews who came escaping persecution.

These people came in, adapted, assimilated and became good British citizens, but over the last 50 years there has been such an influx of immigrants.

Public safety too important to risk

WE have all heard about the G4S failures in their contract to provide security at the Olympics and how the Armed Forces and the police have had to step in at the last minute. Hasn't this proved the importance of the government abandoning its plans to privatise part of the police service?

The main responsibility of any government has to be to protect the public. Can anyone seriously say that our streets would be safe if they were patrolled by G4S guards? Could we be sure they would even turn up for duty?

The government should drop these dangerous plans. Public safety is too important to be put at risk in this way.

Shoppers will be driven out of town

I READ in The Chronicle that the currently free parking in parts of Cannock town centre streets could become chargeable. What idio.

Anyone who goes into Cannock regularly will have seen that the town centre is dying, or has died on its feet, so Cannock Chase District Council intends to force another £150,000 out of shoppers' pockets. Is it their mandate to drive people away altogether?

Shoppers will just relocate to out of town shops so the only ones left in Cannock will be charity shops.

Plea for road action before it is too late

HOW many more deaths do there have to be on Cannock Chase before the council decides to do something about the roads? Our Site of Specific Scientific Interest should be driven through by motorists attracted to its beauty, but instead the trees are littered with memorials to someone's much-loved family member.

It saddens me that three weeks since my own son was badly injured in a road accident on Marquis Drive, another young man has lost his life to the devastation of his family only weeks after another fatal accident, in the same spot, by the water tower. The air ambulance is a constant visitor. We have humps in all sorts of places in Cannock, and they have slowed traffic down immensely. Surely in this case we need them more than ever? There is no need to rush through the Chase, it isn't a major road to and from a big city. It is a country lane between two market towns.

Play area move fears

CONSULTATION is an exchange of opinions, a discussion aimed at ascertaining opinions or reaching an agreement. This does not appear to have been the case with the district council's public consultation over Hednesford Park on July 11 which brought about two questions. Was this date fully advertised and were the park users made aware that there is a real risk of losing the children's play area from its present extremely visible location?

Village finally gets to see Elaine's torch

Elaine Mills with Gavin Williamson and some of the people who gathered at Great Wyrley Methodist Church to have their picture taken at the end of the walk through the village

WHEN Elaine Mills was chosen to carry the Olympic Torch people in her home village of Great Wyrley were disappointed that she was given a route in Willenhall.

She is one of walk leaders from the Great Wyrley Walking for Health Group and to help make up for the disappointment it staged a Walk the Torch in conjunction with the Torch 2012 Community Games Event.

Nearly 70 people walked around Great Wyrley along the carnival route on July 21 with Elaine carrying the Olympic Torch together with a jazz quartet and South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson.

It took about 90 minutes to cope with the many people donating to local charities to have their photograph taken with Elaine. She counted up at the end she had received nearly £85 in the charity bucket.

The walk ended at Great Wyrley Wesley Methodist Church for refreshments and more photographs with the people who had congregated outside the church.

The afternoon ended with Mr Williamson presenting gold and silver certificates to 15 people from the walking group who had walked the different area groups in South Staffordshire (Kinver, Wheaton Aston, Bilbrook/Codsall, Penkridge & Great Wyrley) during the Walking Festival in June.

Pat Smith, from the group, said: "No mean task with the terrible weather conditions that were encountered during many of the walks."

Benefits cheat in court

A BENEFITS cheat received almost £16,000 in over payments after getting into a financial mess with her bills, a court heard.

Louise Williams told staff at the Department of Work and Pensions that she was a single mother with a nine-year-old son when in reality she also shared the family home in Norton Canes with her husband and an older son. It went on for two years before being evicted from the rented social-housing property in Newmarket Road.

Mr Gary Finn, prosecuting for Cannock Chase Council, said suspicions were raised by staff at Accord Housing Association. Investigations confirmed husband Stephen had moved in and used the address on his passport and on joint tax credit claims.

They also found son Bradley gave the address as his home to employers.

Williams, aged 40, admitted two charges of falsely claiming £15,824 in benefits between July 2008 and August 2010. She was given a 12-month community order, including a requirement to carry out 140 hours unpaid work and ordered to pay £300 court costs.

The court heard she had already started paying back part of the £6,940 owed in income support and the £1,369 council tax debt. Arrangements have yet to be made over the £7,513 owed in housing benefit. Mr Stephen Sheldon, defending, said problems started after her husband had lost his regular job.

Club has been ace for sets of tennis players

MEMBERS of a tennis club in Rugeley have served up 60 years.

Past and present members of Etching Hill Tennis Club were invited along to a Diamond Jubilee party at the club's East Butts Road clubhouse last week.

The club was officially opened back in July 1952 by No 2 Wightman Cup player Kay Tuckey, who played an exhibition match against Flo Judy Wallis, an RAF champion and a Wimbledon player.

The seeds were sown towards the club's inception when in the early 1940s a large field was made available for leisure use.

In 1947 a village hall was built and

two hard tennis courts were added in 1952. A meeting of villagers decided that a tennis club should be formed with annual subscriptions set at 30s 6d.

Today, senior membership is £130. In 1954 a hut, which had been used to house servicemen during the Second World War at Brindley Heath R.A.F. camp, was bought cheaply by the club and erected by members next to the village hall.

This was later replaced by a more modern brick building. In 1972 a third court was laid.

Nowadays, the club has three floodlit courts available for use throughout the year. Club sessions for senior members are held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Sunday mornings and the club is also host to a thriving junior contingent, whose training sessions are held on Monday nights and Saturday mornings.

Premier

Four men's teams, four mixed and three ladies teams compete in county and area leagues and the club has both men's and ladies teams in the top county premier league.

The clubhouse boasts a bar pool, table tennis and darts facilities and the club also has a thriving social membership and a cribbage team which plays in a local league on Tuesday evenings during the season.

CLUB NEWS

Stella tells of her flotilla experience

CANNOCK WI

PRESIDENT Stella Winfield welcomed members and sadly informed the ladies of the death of Joan Carey. Condolences go to husband Peter and Joan's twin sister Annie.

Secretary Chris Pace announced forthcoming events including the Stafford Federation summer celebrations on August 16 from 10am-4pm at the County Showground.

Treasurer Barbara Mathews read out the financial statement and the president wished the members a happy holiday in Scotland, arranged by Barbara.

Social secretary Ellen Allcott announced some very interesting outings she had in the pipeline for the coming months.

Stella told members of her experience on London's Jubilee Flotilla.

Speaker Peter Shelly showed how to make items in straw. Del Johnson gave the vote of thanks. Val Craddock won the competition for a piece of embroidery.

The members then began their Jubilee party. Catered for by the committee, they enjoyed sandwiches, scones with fresh cream and strawberries, a slice of Jubilee cake and drinks.

The group all sang along to 50/60s music and Kay Mathews, at the age of 91, did her Burlington Bertie routine.

The morning ended with everyone singing Lane of Hope and Glory.

The next meeting is on August 9 at 10.30 followed by lunch at the president's home.

Meeting is lit up by Torchbearer's visit

Torchbearer Helena Pickerill visits Hayes Green WI with the Olympic Torch

THE July meeting was opened with a welcome from president Sandy Hobbs. Secretary Elaine Smith read the minutes of the June meeting, and the financial report was given by vice-treasurer Eva Dunning.

The annual picnic on the Chase had unfortunately had to be cancelled. A skittles evening has been planned for August, while plans are well in hand for the group's 25th anniversary celebration meal in November.

The evening's speaker was Pete Mason, who amazed members with his stamp collage pictures, from President Obama to scenes of the Chase. The group was entertained by some of the stories behind the pictures.

June Pickerill had told a previous meeting that her 14 year old grand-daughter Helena was to carry the Olympic Torch and it was a real privilege when she arrived with her dad to talk about the experience.

The competition was won by Sandy, Eva, and Sue. August's speaker was to be Kath Whitehouse and "Flowers".

The origins of advertising

PATISIE Jarman's talk included pictures of advertisements dating back to the 19th century and the first half of the 20th.

They depict an interesting span of social history that includes prices - always fascinating to look back on and compare with today's.

Patsie began with the subject of food and showed photos of metal advertising boards which the Peak Frean Company used to advertise their biscuits.

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

She spoke about Alfred Birds custard powder and how Hovis has just celebrated 120 years making bread. Other products mentioned included Smash, made memorable by the metal martians invented by John Webster.

Tobacco and cigarettes were advertised freely, unlike today, and a lot of work went into their packet designs and posters. Fashions came next and medicine with 'Cure-all' pills!

It was a very interesting talk. Beth P won the raffle.

Stephen lands top job at national charity Newlife

A FORMER Great Wyrley school boy has been given a lead job at a national charity based in Cannock.

Stephen Morgan, former Great Wyrley High School pupil has been appointed head of operations at the Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children. The 29-year-old began working for the charity at the age of 15 as a weekend job and rose to become a sales manager by the age of 20.

He said: "I am very grateful to the organisation for my continued development. It is a great credit to Newlife that members of staff continue to be involved from a young age."

Newlife CEO Sheila Brown OBE, said: "This promotion will see him leading the day-to-day running of the charity. "Stephen is passionate and committed to the work of the charity and we are proud to have his excellent skills."

It's Jasmine's day

Jasmine Day took first place for her Geisha theme

BEAUTY therapy students put their skills to the test in an in-house competition.

More than 70 South Staffordshire College students took part in the contest designed to improve both their skills and employability.

The Level 2 students from the college's Cannock and Tamworth campuses, created a thematic individual A3-size display board with magazine cut-outs, textiles, sketches and photos. Students then carried through their chosen approach by designing hair and make-up on models.

Each Campus awarded certificates for the best three entrants, with overall winners Jasmine Day from Cannock receiving first place for her Geisha theme and Melissa Hodson from Tamworth for her Grecian inspired design.

The participants were judged by South Staffordshire College's higher education manager Sharon Bedlow, college hairdressing technician Jayne Hayward and former lecturer and now full-time freelance make-up artist Penny Grimley.

Donations plea over furniture

A RUGELEY charity shop is urging residents to pass on their unwanted furniture.

Salvation Army Trading Company Ltd wants people to donate their items to meet the rising demand for affordable second-hand pieces.

The Market Street shop is seeing a growing number of people seeking small items of second-hand furniture. Now the SATCoL team is appealing to locals to hunt through their homes, sheds, attics and garages and bring any unwanted pieces in to be sold on.

Donations could include small, portable items such as side tables, nests of tables, coffee tables, bedside cabinets, small chairs and stools. They can be dropped off during opening hours, Monday to Saturday 9am to 5pm, or collection could be arranged.

"Lots of people will have a small item of furniture that they no longer really want and is currently cluttering the garage or garden shed," said SATCoL area manager Christine Westwood.

"Whether it's a small coffee table, foot stool or something else really useful for the home we'd be grateful for any donations. We know there's a need here for small furniture and with the pressures on everyone's purses it's important for us to be able to provide items at reasonable prices those that can't afford new pieces."

Profit made from the sale of the items will be gift-aided to The Salvation Army to help fund its work throughout the UK.

Talk on Baby Bear project

ROS Blackmore is giving a talk to parishioners in Rugeley about the Baby Bear Project. She will address the Church of the Holy Spirit in Etching Hill at 2pm on Wednesday, September 26. The Baby Bear Project sends out starter kits, such as reusable nappies, clothes and knitwear items, for babies born to poor women in Durban, South Africa. Everyone is welcome to learn more about the project.

Eye in the sky has been on watch for 25 years

NOSTALGIC photographs charting the 25-year history of the West Midlands Police helicopter unit have been released.

The force has had an "eye in the sky" since 1987 and has operated different aircraft throughout that time.

Over the years, the unit has helped in the apprehension of thousands of criminals and its current chopper hi-tech surveillance equipment such as heat-seeking technology, a 30-million candlelight searchlight and video thermal camera.

But having access to top technology has not always been the way.

When the unit started, officers had to carry hand-held camcorders and lean out of the side of the choppers to film suspects.

Airborne police could only talk to ground officers over the radio system if they were in eyesight of each other because the frequency was so limited.

Massively

Martin Knowles, deputy executive officer at the unit, said: "I started in 1992 and things were very different then. There was no thermal camera equipment or anything like that. Things have certainly progressed massively over the past 20 years."

The Midlands Air Operations Unit began at Birmingham Airport in July 1987, as a consortium involving West Midlands, Warwickshire, West Mercia and Staffordshire Police.

Now the helicopter is recognised as one of the force's most valuable assets in the fight against crime.

Last year, it stopped almost £1 million of property from being stolen and played an integral role in the arrest of almost 500 people.

During 2011, the Eurocopter machine helped stop £961,000 of property from being stolen. It has attended 3,840 incidents, flying more than 1,480 hours and helping to secure the arrest of 497 criminals. The copter also located 17 missing people.

1989 saw its livery changed to the familiar "jam sandwich"

Sun brings 8,000 steaming into show

Full steam ahead - Jon Littlechild with a scale model of an LNER V2 locomotive

MORE than 8,000 people turned out to enjoy the Shugborough Country Show thanks to the sunny weather this weekend.

The event - which took place both Saturday and Sunday at the historic Staffordshire estate - in Milford, near Stafford, was run by Oakleigh Fairs.

Visitors enjoyed seeing birds of prey, working dogs, children's entertainment, arts and crafts, as well as sampling food from the marquees.

A record 100 stallholders had pitches at the event at the event which also boasted a goat show featuring milking and cheese-making, a jousting tournament, and owl displays.

Colin Fielding, aged 48, was dressed as a British Red Coat soldier as part of Anglo-Zulu war display group which tells the story of the battle from the 19th century. He is part of the group called Ibutho which is based in Essex. He said: "I've been five years in this sort of business."

"We have events in most parts of the country and there is always enough interest to fill them. Matt and Ellen Tranter, both aged 37, travelled to the show from their home in Cannock.

"We've done all the stalls and watched the dog show and really enjoyed it," Mrs Tranter said.

"We've had two barn owls at home and so that's a particular interest for us with the birds of prey. They've been hand-reared."

"I enjoyed today - it's quite good - but I think perhaps there could be more events as well."

Emma Owen, spokesman for Oakleigh Fairs said: "We've had a really good weekend and had record numbers."

Courses on offer to help jobseekers

JOBSEEKERS in Staffordshire can brush up on their interview techniques and tidy up their CVs during a free skills workshop this summer. The event, which is being run as part of Stafford and Rural Homes' community learning programme, will be held at Gnosall Fire Station in Wharf Road on August 21, from 10am-3pm.

Community involvement officer Christine Cartwright said: "The workshop is great for anyone needing a bit of help in writing and presenting their CV and preparing for interviews." The housing provider is also delivering 19 courses over the next six months. Stafford and Rural Homes offer subjects from IT to Budgeting and Managing Your Money.

Book yourself in to support for wildlife

Yvonne Leeson is encouraging nature lovers to join their local wildlife trust

NATURE lovers who sign up to support local wildlife during August will receive a free book packed with ideas on how to get the most out of the UK's countryside.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is giving a copy of 152 Wild Things To Do to anyone who joins as a member while visiting its Wolsley Centre HQ, in Wolsley Bridge between Rugeley and Stafford, throughout this month.

The family-friendly guide, which retails at £12.99, is brimming with inspirational nature activities such as snail-racing, wild foraging, campfire cooking and glow worm spotting.

Membership officer Yvonne Leeson said: "With the support of our members, we are able to create and maintain nature reserves for wildlife, protect rare species and habitats at risk from vanishing, and give thousands of schoolchildren the chance of a hands-on experience of nature."

"By joining us, you will also enjoy many opportunities to get closer to nature in your local area - at events, walks, talks, and volunteering."

New joiners will also receive three issues a year of Staffordshire Wildlife magazine - packed with wildlife news from around the county - and a tri-annual What's On guide. Supporters can also sign up for a monthly e-newsletter giving details of events, project news and wildlife sightings.

The Wolsley Centre, on the A51 between Rugeley and Stafford, and has 26 acres of wildlife-friendly grounds.

Councils receive building backing

ARCHITECTS, builders and developers have given Cannock Chase and Stafford Borough councils the thumbs up.

They were asked to comment on the building control service, which is now shared by the authorities.

The latest survey found 99 per cent of customers were happy with the service they received, while 96 per cent were satisfied with advice they were given.

Councillor Gordon Alcott, Cannock Chase Council economic development and planning leader, said today: "The shared building control function with Stafford Borough Council was set up to deliver a more efficient, cost-effective service, while also maintaining and enhancing service for customers.

"The latest survey clearly shows that a quality, professional service is being delivered that is very much appreciated by customers."

Councillor Frances Beatty, who is a Stafford Borough Council cabinet member for planning and regeneration, added: "We are delighted with this very strong performance from the team."

"It is this commitment to the customer that will help encourage businesses to invest here and make people to want to live and work in our borough."

Royal lookalikes help Monarch Park celebrate

THERE were plenty of double takes when royal lookalikes arrived at an open day being held in honour of a new multi-million housing estate in Cannock.

The Queen, Prince William and Kate all turned up for the event at the Monarch Park estate. Work is well under way on the 150-home development and fun events were lined up to help with the launch. A caricaturist, balloon modelling and hog roast were among the activities available throughout the day, while pupils from Moorcroft Primary helped create a mural for the wall.

Cannock Chase Council, housebuilder Lovell and Waterloo Housing Association are behind the scheme named in honour of Queen Elizabeth's Diamond Jubilee.

A smile that led to love at first sight

Brian and Gillian Elliott celebrating 50 years of marriage

A COUPLE who met on a blind date in Blackpool after being introduced by mutual friends are celebrating 50 years of marriage.

Brian and Gillian Elliott later tied the knot at St Peter's Church in her native Hednesford on July 14, 1962.

Mrs Elliott, aged 69, said: "It was a blind date, Brian was living in Carlisle and I was living here and some friends, who are sadly no longer with us, got us together."

The retired housewife said it was love at first sight when she caught a glimpse of her husband-to-be, a retired mechanic now aged 73.

She said: "I have always liked dark hair and a big grin and he had both, he still has, but less hair now."

The couple have two children, Carlton, 47, and Deana, 42 and four grandchildren, Tom, 15, Fran, 12,

The couple in 1962

Jack, 11, and eight-year-old James.

Mrs Elliott said the secret to a happy marriage is making time for each other. "I think it's all about putting each other first," she added.

Support is urged for marine wildlife

STAFFORDSHIRE Wildlife Trust is urging people to sign up to a new campaign that supports underwater life.

The scheme, Friends of Marine Conservation Zones, runs until August 12.

To help restore and protect sea life, 127 marine conservation zones (MCZs) in English and off-shore Welsh waters have been recommended to the Government for protection, following consultation with more than a million stakeholders.

However, there are indications that only a small proportion of these will actually be designated.

To put pressure on the Government to designate the full suite of 127 recommended sites, wildlife trusts are encouraging people to become 'friends' of their local MCZ.

During National Marine Week, there will be a display about The Wildlife Trusts' marine conservation work at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's HQ, the Wolsley Centre, on the A51 between Stafford and Rugeley.

Pageant and planters

THREE beauty queens were on hand to add glamour to a tree-planting ceremony in Rugeley.

Current and former winners of the Miss Earth beauty pageant, Sandra Lees and Roxanne Smith, both from Birmingham, and Tanya Walker, from Kent, were at Hawkesyard Estate on Saturday to plant mountain ash and silver birch trees.

They were donated by the funds raised from the the finalists of the 2011 Miss Earth Grand Final.

As part of the beauty pageant, girls who enter are set with a challenge when participating to raise funds for the Girls4Trees community project.

Funds raised are distributed to organisations and projects which share the same aims of the Miss Earth organisation.

Hawkesyard Estate was bought in 1999 by the Whorton family, who were determined to return it to its former glory.

Miss Earth chose it to be one of the projects to receive funds to continue the work.

The estate, Armitage Lane, is a venue for weddings, conferences and round of golf.

ARSONISTS who set fire to grassland on Cannock Chase have been warned police will pursue prosecutions.

Firefighters spent five hours tackling a deliberately set fire on the Chase last Thursday night.

Crews were called to Sherbert Valley in Broadhurst Green and had to battle plumes of heavy smoke, before dousing the flames.

Dry conditions made the fire very difficult to tackle, station manager Ian Dawson said. "Firefighters discovered three separate seats of fire which quickly took hold of the area," he said.

"We had to split the incident into sectors in order to bring the fire under control as quickly as possible.

"Grass fires always take longer than other fires to extinguish as, especially when the ground is very dry, the fire can spread underground and continue to smoulder so we have to spend a long time damping down to prevent re-ignition.

"Once the fire was extinguished a fire investigation was carried out which confirmed our suspicions that the fire had been started deliberately."

He added: "Starting a fire deliberately is not big, funny or clever - it's a crime and it won't be tolerated. We work with Staffordshire Police to do everything in our power to find and punish anyone deliberately wasting our time and endangering lives by starting fires maliciously."

New figures released by the fire service show that of the 182 grass fires in Staffordshire so far this year, just four were accidentally started.

Bank staff hope to net charity cash in contest

BANK workers from Staffordshire are hitting the netball court to raise cash for Cannock-based children's charity Newlife. HSBC Midlands has nominated Newlife as its charity of the year and around 200 branches are taking part in a range of fundraising activities.

The netball tournament has been organised by HSBC Cannock branch manager Victoria Emery. She said: "I am very excited to be able to combine my sports skills with my work to help raise funds for such a great cause. We are grateful to Staffordshire University Sports Centre at Beaconsfield and the league organisers for donating the use of a court. We are looking forward to good fun and healthy competition."

Help service for dementia victims gets chaotic label

A SERVICE aimed at diagnosing people with Alzheimer's and dementia in South Staffordshire has been criticised in a new report which described it as "chaotic".

Health and social services watchdog Staffordshire LINK carried out a review of the Memory Assessment Clinic project known as MAC UK.

It found some people using the service were having to wait more than six months for an appointment following referral from their GP and there were also concerns about the competency of clinic staff.

Users of the service said clinics were undermanned, telephone calls were rarely answered and some staff had an uncaring attitude.

Other complaints included inflexible opening times, a lack of communication between the service and carers and poor co-ordination.

Jackie Owen, manager at Staffordshire LINK, said: "Overall, the impression we got was of a chaotic service that isn't meeting the needs of either patients or carers."

"There were examples of good practice, and the level of unhappiness varied by area, but many service users and their carers are extremely dissatisfied."

Staffordshire LINK's review was carried out by questioning carers at Alzheimer's cafes across South Staffordshire. The findings have been reported to the Staffordshire Cluster of PCTs, which commissions the MAC UK service.

Sue Venables, spokeswoman for the cluster, said: "We are currently putting plans in place, which have been led by GPs, carers and patients, to address concerns and issues expressed about the current service."

Footpaths facelifts in £115,000 scheme

RESIDENTS in Burntwood will see improvements to kerbs and footpaths outside their homes - as part of a Staffordshire County Council investment scheme.

As part of the £115,000 project repairs and resurfacing work will be carried out in Brooklyn Road, Brook End, Crane Drive and Burleigh Croft.

Work is due start on Monday and is part of a £50 million package of investments being carried out by the county council.

County councillor councillor Erica Bayliss welcomed the repairs and resurfacing of the footpaths.

She said: "This is great news for families in Burntwood and will make a great difference to people locally not only in terms of how they look but for families out on an about on foot."

"We will be working along the roads over the coming weeks to ensure the paths are in tip top condition in time for winter."

Residents are being asked not to leave vehicles parked on the road during the daytime if work is taking place near their property. Engineers will be on site if this causes any concerns for families.

Incinerator is for its opening target

A £122 million incinerator to generate power for around 32,000 homes in South Staffordshire will open in December next year.

Building work started at the Four Ashes Industrial Estate between Cannock and Wolverhampton last year and is on target to open before Christmas 2013.

When completed, the incinerator is expected to create 40 jobs. Staffordshire County Council leader Philip Atkins was among a group of councillors who visited the site this week and said he was impressed with how the owners, waste construction firm Veolia, have boosted the economy through employing 87 per cent of the workforce from the surrounding area. "I am delighted with the progress so far - the site visit gave us the chance to see for ourselves how work is coming along," he said. "The development of the new plant is part of our Zero Waste to Landfill strategy, which is tackling the growing problem of domestic waste. We want to maximise recycling first, and then recover energy from the leftover residual waste. "The project is also central to our drive to protect tax payers and residents from the rising environmental and financial costs of landfill, which are rising fast."

Pam sheds the pounds and her party girl image

FRIENDS used to call her Pamburger because of her fondness for takeaway food.

Now former heavyweight Pam Pratley has given up her favourite snack and is well on her way to losing her target of five stone.

The transformation started in February as she approached her 30th birthday. "I'd been a party girl all my 20s - the one with the big personality while other girls had the looks," said Pam.

"It made me realise how much I wanted to change my life."

The bachelor girl from Great Wyrley took her new diet and fitness regime so seriously that she even refused to have any of her own birthday cake in March.

Now she has shrunk from 15st 7lb to 11st 13lb and plans to lose another one-and-a-half stone before Christmas.

If she succeeds, the achievement would represent a total turnaround in fortunes.

Banned

Last year was a bad one for the catering assistant on a number of fronts, not least the death of her beloved father from heart failure at the age of 62.

It made her think about her own health and fitness, prompting her to join the Fitness First gym at Cannock.

"I was really nervous, I'd never exercised before and I was way out of my comfort zone. But I really took to it."

"The personal trainers - Leanne, Russell, Archie and Ali - took me under their wing and gave me great support."

At the same time Pam gave up her diet of bacon sandwiches, kebabs, chips, Chinese takeaways, burgers and Galaxy chocolate bars for a new regime of Weetabix, fruit, salads, chicken, pasta, jacket potatoes and soup.

She has also banned white bread and cake from her new lifestyle.

"I'd probably have three full Englishes a week and I could eat a whole crusty loaf to myself - crisps were another downfall - but all that's behind me now."

"It's given me loads of energy. I'm

Slimmer Pam Pratley as she looked when she weighed 15st 7lb before she started her diet regime

Former party girl Pam as she looks now - well on her way to hitting her target of shedding a total of five out and about instead of spending Sundays in bed with a hangover."

Pam, of Walsall Road, who works in the restaurant at Hilton Park Services on the M6, says: "It's frustrating when people say the weight is dropping off me - it makes it sound so easy - but it shows people have noticed."

"My friends say they want 'the old Pam' back because I was always the last to leave a party."

"Now I tell them 'Sorry, I've got to be up for the gym in the morning'."

"When it comes to looks, I want to give them a bit of competition." It has helped that staff no longer get £9.50-a-day meal allowance, "which went straight on junk food," says Pam.

Her emerging slimmer figure has given her a new-found confidence.

"I'd love to run a marathon but first I'm going to try my hand at the Race For Life. I'm doing loads of spin classes at the gym so I should be ready for next year."

She added: "I'm also banking on my new figure getting me a better class of man."

FOCUS ON PENKRIDGE

Here for the beer at village festival

PENKRIDGE Round Table will be hosting the first Penkridge Beer Festival in September.

It will be at the Peace Memorial Hall, Church Road, on September 21 and 22.

Close to 30 local businesses have signed up to support this event and raise money for local charities and good causes, by sponsoring barrels and activities.

It will feature more than 30 beers and real ales, from around the country, together with ciders and wines.

The event will be run over three sessions: Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening, and will have live music and pub games.

Tickets are not yet on sale, but anyone interested can register at www.penkridge-beerfestival.co.uk.

Organiser Peter Machin said: "The guys of Penkridge Round Table felt that the village was ready for a 'proper' beer festival, so we've been busy planning the event for the last few months, to ensure that we offer music and variety and at the same time raise money for local charities and good causes."

"We expect the beer festival will attract a range of people from Penkridge and nearby villages."

There are a few slots available for sponsorship, contact him on 07710 109007.

Haling Dene given go-ahead to put solar panels on roof

THE Grade II-listed Haling Dene Centre in Penkridge is to have 25 solar panels installed to make it more energy efficient.

By Mark Mudie

The building, which is home to Penkridge Parish Council and can be hired for functions, was created in extensive grounds for a retired Colonial Bishop in 1840.

Planning bosses have now approved plans for 25 solar panels on the flat roof at the rear of the stunning site.

It is hoped it will make the centre more energy efficient.

There is no start date yet for the installation as work cannot start until the roof is strengthened.

Bought

Parish administrator Lynne Hames said the panels were very heavy and the roof needed to be bolstered to support them.

The decision was delegated to planning officers at South Staffordshire Council rather than going before the committee made up of councillors.

The Cannock Road centre was bought by the parish council in 1974 and is in the conservation area.

A report that went before planning chiefs reads: "Once installed, the panels will not be visible from the front of the building and certainly not from Cannock Road, where the centre is further screened by walling and planting."

"Views from the centre would therefore not be affected and there would be no impact upon the Conservation Area."

"While the solar panels could be glimpsed from the rear of the building, this would not represent a major visual intrusion."

"They are proposed to be affixed to the roof of a modern extension to the historic building."

"As a result, no historic fabric would be harmed or historic material lost."

The building was listed grade II on March 19, 1962.

Belly good way to fitness

PEOPLE can keep fit and active through belly dancing lessons in Penkridge every Thursday evening. They take place at the Methodist Hall in Clay Street from 7.30-9pm.

For details call 01785 713780.

Kay Bishop looking forward to a bumper day at her cupcake stall

Market sets out its stall for day of fun

UP TO 6,000 people are expected to mark two decades of Penkridge Market at a huge party later this year.

Market manager Matt Williams said the site regularly welcomes 4,000 shoppers and would be "heaving" if another 50 per cent turned up on top of that.

A community fun day is being staged on October 27 to commemorate the market's 20th anniversary, with a marquee selling fresh food and bouncy castle planned. The event will run from 9am to 4pm, and admission will be free.

Bosses will also present awards to stallholders, including a best traders trophy. Mr Williams, aged 30, said: "We are really looking forward to the party - we have had a great response so far and if we get 6,000 people it will be completely heaving here."

"Hopefully people will come along and celebrate with us."

The owners bought the site in 1992 and have installed an auction room, café, toilet block and covered market area over the past two decades.

Earlier this year the market, off Pinfold Lane, introduced a £10 per pitch promotion for a day to encourage entrepreneurs. The initiative was hailed a success as a range of people took the plunge at trading from a stall.

Charity is given help by Rotary

THE president of Penkridge Rotary Club has helped boost the coffers of a Parkinson's charity.

Michael Taylor linked up with Barclays bank to match the £750 raised by the Rotary Club at a charity race night earlier this year.

The cash will go to the Haling Dene Centre, in Cannock Road, Penkridge.

Another charity race will take place at Peace Memorial Hall on February 9.

Children's sports day

PENKRIDGE Leisure Centre staging its own version of the Olympics on Monday.

The event is suitable for five to 12 years old.

It will take place at the Cannock Road site between 10am and 3pm.

People are advised to book in advance by calling 01785 714152.

Book date for a good read

BOOK fans can meet up with the Penkridge Reading Group on the first Thursday of the month.

Meetings take place at Penkridge Library from 2.30-3.30pm where members can meet for an informal discussion.

It is free to attend and no booking is required.

OUT AND ABOUT

Action stations – sky's the limit for fun at air museum

Spitfire model making is one choice from the August programme of events for children at the RAF Museum. THROUGHOUT August, the Royal Air Force Museum Cosford has created a range of exciting interactive activities that will get families working together and having fun.

Creative workshops will run throughout the month between 11am-12.30pm and 2pm-3.30pm and all materials for these hands-on sessions will be provided by the museum.

Between August 6-10 there will be an Olympics theme to the week where children will be able to make their own medal and foam bookmark. Everyone will be a winner with these fun foam medals which come complete with glitter decorations and coloured ribbon.

The second week of activities between August 13-17 will be dedicated to gliders where children will have the opportunity to make and colour in aeroplane and butterfly gliders and test how well they fly. These easy-to-assemble gliders come in a variety of designs to choose from.

Spitfire

Families can participate in model making activities from August 20-24. Visitors can build an Airfix 1:72 Spitfire in a communal and fun atmosphere and people don't have to be skilled modellers to take part as staff will be there to lend a hand and ensure visitors get the most from their modelling.

During the last week of August 28-31 the theme will be back to school where children can decorate and personalise a traditional wooden pencil box.

For each of the activities, participants will get to take their creations home as a memento of the day. A trail will also run at weekends and on bank holiday Monday, keeping the children entertained everyday throughout August. Children and adults alike will be fascinated by fun 'n' flight – a free interactive area is packed with hands on excitement; it's the easy way to answer all those questions about how planes stay up in the air.

A small participation fee applies for each of the activities to cover the costs of materials. To participate in the events this August, tickets must be purchased from the admissions desk on arrival.

For further information on August Activities and other events taking place at the RAF Museum, near Albrighton, contact 01902 376200 or visit the www.rafmuseum.org website.

The museum is open daily from 10am – 6pm. Entry to the museum is free. There is a parking charge. Meanwhile, the warplanes collection at Cosford has been enhanced by the arrival of a Harrier GR.9A serial number ZG477. This revolutionary vertical take-off, multi-role combat aircraft is now on display to visitors.

The Harrier GR.9A is a single seat, multi-role combat aircraft, capable of operating in extreme environments, at night, low level and from a variety of locations including deployed air bases and aircraft carriers. One of its more unique and well known features is the ability to take-off and land vertically. Fitted with a Rolls-Royce Pegasus engine, the aircraft is over 46ft in length, has a wingspan of 30ft and could reach a top speed of 661mph.

What can God do for you?

Family Life -

Sadly, following the break-up of so many families in society, people's lives can get complicated and confusing. God never intended it to be like this. He created man and woman to be joined together through marriage for life. We read in Matthew 19:6 'Therefore what God has joined together, let not man separate.'

It was into this secure environment that God saw fit for children to be born. Modern research also backs up that children thrive within a stable family background. If we trust God, we will find that from the beginning he has known what is best for us.

'Unless the Lord builds the house, they labour in vain who build it' Psalm 127:1.

Residents get into Olympic spirit with their own contest

Care assistant Kimberley Humpage and 84-year-old Joan Sumpter in the egg and spoon race

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home went for gold at their alternative Olympic games.

Sprinting, jumping and swimming were replaced by gurning, wellie wanging and sock throwing as Lakeview Care Home in held its own sporting spectacular.

There was also an egg and spoon race while staff donned fancy dress before taking to the track for a race.

Winners were presented with commemorative 'gold' medals. The opening ceremony in London was screened in the main lounge as residents relaxed on Friday following their exertions earlier in the day.

Business development assistant Tracey York, aged 35, said: "Because the weather has been lovely it has been a wonderful afternoon."

"Residents and relatives have really got into the spirit of the Olympics and really enjoyed taking part."

Peggy Holmes, aged 82, holds the torch as residents, staff and friends look on

OUT AND ABOUT

Sherlock investigates a Victorian town mystery

AMATEUR sleuths can meet Sherlock Holmes and Dr John Watson when they return to Blists Hill Victorian Town in Shropshire's Ironbridge Gorge for the Detectives Weekend this Saturday and Sunday.

The intrepid duo and their housekeeper Mrs Hudson, from 221b Baker Street in London, will arrive at the Shropshire town in a Hansom Cab drawn by a pair of horses.

Meet them outside the Print Shop at 12noon and 2pm and hear more about the mystery from the famous detective and his side-kick, and maybe offer some crime busting suggestions of your own.

You can also follow a trail of clues around the open-air museum and put your powers of deduction to the test as you search for lost objects – anyone finding all the missing items can collect a small reward from the Post Office.

Blists Hill is also set to greet town criers from across Britain will be taking part in the fourth annual Town Crier Competition the location near Ironbridge at 11.30am on Sunday, August 12.

The reigning champion from Banbury, who has won the past two years, will be aiming to retain his title for a further twelve months.

Is a shocking discovery in store for Holmes and Watson as part of the fun activities at Ironbridge Gorge's Blists Hill Victorian Town in Shropshire this weekend?

With many dressed in elaborate robes with tri-corne hats, the town criers will make quite a spectacle.

They traditionally ring a handbell as they shout the words "Oyez! Oyez! Oyez!", which is a call for silence before making public announcements.

Taking place on the last day of the town's Blacksmith weekend, the theme for this year's event is aptly 'blacksmiths'. The prizes will be made in Blists Hill's own foundry and will be presented at 2pm.

Shrewsbury's Town Crier Martin Wood will be running the competition – standing at 7ft 2 inches tall, the gentle giant is also the world's tallest crier.

Open 10am to 5pm Blists Hill is one of the Ironbridge

Gorge Museums. An annual passport allows entry to all ten museums, valid for 12 months with unlimited return visits, costing £23.25 (adult), £18.75 (60 plus), £15.25 (student/children) and £64 for a family of two adults and their children aged up to 18 in full time education, under 5s free. Individual museum entry tickets are also available.

BOOKS

Summer books for young readers

It's wicked being popular in Maureen Johnson's supernatural satire

Meet the Mer people in Stormswept, a stand-alone title

THE PURSUIT of a butterfly in an Australian office block literally triggers the 'Butterfly Effect' of unforeseen profound consequences around the planet in Matt Dickinson's Deep Oblivion (Oxford University Press, teenage).

The invisible connections influence the life and death struggles of people across the globe in a similar fast-paced adventure to his thriller Mortal Chaos.

New queen of teen Maureen Johnson's US school satire sees Jane try to rescue her best friend from a deal with the devil at their Catholic girls' school in Devilish (Harper Collins, 13 plus).

Laugh-out-loud funny with lots of slapstick as student Tautilah Casey pursues the perfect snog, A Midsummer Tights Dream (Harper Collins, 12 plus) is Louise Rennison's sequel to Withering Tights. It's from the same author who penned Angus Thongs and Perfect Snogging.

The other four books in the series, which began in 2005, are being republished.

Stormswept (Harper Collins, nine plus) is the latest novel in Cornish writer Helen Dunmore's Ingo Chronicles series, but this stand-alone title is accessible to those so far unaware of her environment-conscious books about the overlap between human and Mer people worlds. Instead of a crab or broken surfboard washed up on the beach, Morveren discovers a teenage boy half-buried in the sand but he's no ordinary boy.

Gothic

Teenage fans of gothic romance will want to find out what happens to Amelia, the ghostly heroine of Tara Hudson's Hereafter, who is still determined on mortal love in the sequel Arise (Harper Collins). This time Amelia's search for answers and a more substantial future take her to America's most supernatural city, New Orleans, and the power of voodoo.

Epic space opera A Confusion of Princes (Harper Collins, 13 plus) by Garth Nix harks back to the golden days of sci-fi, a romp through a galactic empire. As it's a stand-alone, readers don't have to wade through a library of existing titles to get up to speed with Prince Khemri's world(s).

Japanese and European mythologies influence The Hidden Kingdom (Oxford University Press, 12 plus) an epic new fantasy from experienced children's author

By Leon Burakowski

Ian Beck. A pampered prince has to mature quickly and his female protector face many challenges in a snowy landscape as human armies and demons clash.

Join Esme and Monty Pepper, plus their Uncle Potty and troupe, in the old theatre on the end of the pier for magic and madcap adventures in Sian Patten's The Magical Peppers and the Island of Invention (Harper Collins, nine plus). The twins investigate when magicians disappear.

Teenager Mikey, who suffered brain damage in an accident, uses a gift which he calls "the backwords" to look into the past and try to uncover the truth about his father's disappearance. Sarah Hammond's unusual teen read The Night Sky In My Head (Oxford University Press) has been compared with The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time and it is certainly a promising debut by the writer from Lincolnshire.

Oxford University Press have reprinted The Little Grey Men by BB, a near forgotten children's novel from the 1940s about a group of gnomes who live beside a Warwickshire brook. When one of their number, Cloudberry, goes missing they set off on a quest to find him. 'BB' was English naturalist Denys Watkins-Pitchford and his love of the countryside and illustrations infuse this slightly old-fashioned but often enchanting fairy tale. A magical garden gnome can help a boy's horse racing dream come true, even if he's only got a donkey, in Mr Skip (Harper Collins, pre-teen), a reprint of an amusing, undemanding read by War Horse author Michael Morpurgo.

What's On!

Library offers gaming days

FREE activities are being laid on at Lichfield libraries this month.

Lichfield Library Games Club, which features fantasy game Warhammer and trading card game Yu Gi Oh!, will be on at Lichfield Library, The Friary, on August 14 and 28. It runs from 3.30-6.30pm.

Computer novices can book sessions with an IT expert on any Tuesday or Wednesday morning.

And Lichfield Library's talking book group will meet for an hour at 2pm on August 30.

Date is set for Calendar Girls

CANNOCK Chase Drama Society will be presenting a version of Calendar Girls in the town this autumn.

The comedy which was made famous by the hit 2003 film starring Helen Mirren and Julie Walters will be performed at The Prince of Wales Centre on September 13, 14 and 15.

Tickets are £10 and are available on 07968757820.

Bats in focus

THE Cannock Group of the Staffordshire Wildlife Trust have a 'Bat Walk' at Shoal Hill, Cannock on Saturday 11 August. Meet in the car park in Cocksparrow Lane, Shoal Hill at 8.45pm, all are welcome.

Stone Roses return to join The Killers as V headliners

TENS of thousands of music fans will descend on Staffordshire later this month for the 17th annual V Festival.

American rockers The Killers make a welcome return to Weston Park to headline this year's two-day pop and rock bonanza alongside Manchester's comeback kings The Stone Roses, who are due to appear at V for the first time.

Ben will be Jesus at NIA

WINNER of TV show Superstar Ben Forster will take the starring role in Birmingham when Jesus Christ Superstar comes to the NIA on October 4 and on its newly announced additional NIA date of October 5.

Forster will play the leading role in the first ever UK arena tour of Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's hit musical from the 1970s.

He will join Aussie comedian and musician Tim Minchin as Judas Iscariot, former Spice Girl and Superstar judge Melanie C as Mary Magdalene and outgoing Radio 1 breakfast DJ Chris Moyles as King Herod. Tickets cost from £45 to £65 (plus fees). Call 0844 338 8000.

Noel Gallagher's High Flying Birds, Snow Patrol, Tinie Tempah, Example, Nicki Minaj, Ed Sheeran and David Guetta have been lined up for the popular festival, which takes place on August 18 and 19.

Also on the bill are The Happy Mondays, Tom Jones, James Morrison, Rizzle Kicks, The Enemy, Pixie Lott, Keane, Nero and Madness.

Comedy

Dozens of acts will be spread across four stages while the Glee Club Comedy Tent - being headlined by top stand-ups Sean Lock and Tim Minchin - returns.

The Stone Roses, fronted by V favourite Ian Brown, are set to attract a big crowd having reunited last year following a 15-year hiatus.

Tickets are still available s e www.vfestival.com/tickets

Former Oasis man Noel Gallagher bring his High Flying Birds to the V Festival

Apocalyptic concert for rocker Slash

SLASH, English-born guitarist with American band Guns N' Roses, is coming to Birmingham NIA in October as part of his UK solo tour.

The gig on October 9 follows the success of Slash's second solo album, Apocalyptic Love. It followed the Staffordshire-raised rocker's 2010 debut album Slash and his first live solo album Made In Stoke 24/7/11.

Lydon

Olympics 2012

BBC1, 6.50pm
Gary Lineker presents, as athletics takes centre stage on a potentially glorious night for Team GB. Assuming she made it through the first six events unscathed, Jessica Ennis will be hoping to earn the gold medal in the heptathlon. The Sheffield star will be sure to use up every remaining ounce of energy as she battles to earn a memorable overall victory, although defending champion Nataliya Dobrynska is unlikely to give up her title without a fight. Mo Farah is also in action tonight, as he takes on the world's elite in the 10,000m.

Film Choices

MONDAY

Red Sonja, Channel 5, 10.55pm

A female warrior resolves to stop an evil queen unleashing the destructive power of a magical orb that allows control of the elements, and make the malevolent monarch pay for murdering her family. Fantasy adventure, starring Brigitte Nielsen. (1985)

TUESDAY

Jungle Book, Channel 4, 1.05pm

A teenager raised by wolves returns to the village where he was born. He relearns human ways, but after a while decides to return to his old jungle home and reunite with his animal friends to help foil a greedy merchant's evil scheme. Adventure, based on Rudyard Kipling's classic novel, starring Sabu. (1942)

The Island, ITV1, 10.35pm

The naive survivors of an apparent ecological disaster work, rest and play inside their utopian sealed community in the year 2019, each hoping to win a ticket to an idyllic island in a regular lottery draw. However, a curious inhabitant discovers the restricted society is a facade shielding a sinister cloning operation and is determined to escape. Sci-fi thriller, starring Ewan McGregor and Scarlett Johansson. (2005)

The Bourne Ultimatum, Friday, ITV1, 10.35pm

WEDNESDAY

Dead Calm, ITV1, 10.35pm

A husband and wife take a yachting trip to help recover from the death of their son. While out on the open water the couple spot a sinking ship and manage to save the only person left on board – but they come to bitterly regret their good deed when the situation turns dark and a fraught battle of wits ensues. Thriller, with Sam Neill. (1989)

THURSDAY

Meet Me in St Louis, Channel 4, 12.55pm

A job offer tempts a banker to consider uprooting his close-knit family and moving to New York. However, his wife and children struggle with the prospect of leaving their friends behind, and are horrified when they realise they might miss out on the 1904 St Louis World's Fair. Musical, starring Judy Garland. (1944)

FRIDAY

The Bourne Ultimatum, ITV1, 10.35pm

Amnesiac rogue assassin Jason Bourne's long-buried memories are reawakened by a British journalist researching the secret organisation who were responsible for transforming him into a killing machine. Meanwhile, a ruthless CIA director becomes convinced Bourne is still a high security risk, and plans to dispose of him once and for all. Third instalment of the spy thriller series, starring Matt Damon. (2007)

Pick of the Week

Noteworthy success of a smash-hit team

In 1984, after meeting Mike Stock and Matt Aitken, train-loving DJ, songwriter and music producer Pete Waterman thought they would help make a winning team. To say he was on the money is something of an understatement. New documentary

The Hit Factory: The Stock Aitken and Waterman Story (Monday, ITV1, 9pm) looks back on Britain's most successful pop producers, with the aid of their greatest hits.

One of their greatest successes was Kylie Minogue, the Neighbours star who proved she was more than just a pretty face. I Should Be So Lucky launched her music career and kick-started a wave of Aussie soap stars trying their hands at chart stardom. Dead or Alive enjoyed lucrative success, thanks to SAW's dance-floor filler You Spin Me Round, while established celebs such as Sinitta, Cliff Richard and the late Donna Summer also benefitted from the Midas touch of Mike, Matt and Pete. The trio went on to score more than 100 top 40 hits, and one of their biggest successes was with a man who witnessed their rise to fame, Rick Astley.

"I met Pete Waterman very early on when I was about 19, and I watched their company, Stock, Aitken and Waterman and everything go from just kind of hanging on by the skin of their teeth to becoming the biggest producers in Europe really," explains Rick. "And that's around the time when they were just starting to crack it, they were just beginning to have hit records, that's when I signed to them. I had no clue who they were."

Thanks to his hit single Never Gonna Give You Up, Rick was transformed from jobbing musician to overnight superstar. Aside from landing the number one slot 25 years ago (where it stayed for five weeks, and became the best selling UK single of 1987), it also topped the charts in 25 countries, including the United States. The video, helmed by The Expendables 2's Simon West, was broadcast all over the world, but more recently the song received a new lease of life thanks to the Internet phenomena of 'Rickrolling'.

Five years ago some wag thought it would be a good idea to post misleading Internet links which would re-direct viewers to Astley's classic tune.

They say there's no such thing as bad publicity, and in an age when the world started warming to instantly downloadable music, it wasn't long before one of Stock Aitken and Waterman's most famous tracks had achieved a new lease of life.

In 2012 the trio may be comfortably well off, but in the early days Rick wondered whether the company would survive. "I'm not saying they were talking about how they were going to pay the studio rent, but it felt like that at times," he laughs. "They were building something, and then a year-and-a-half later they'd got five records in the top 40 all the time." The rest, as they say, is pop history.

Aside from contributions from Pete Waterman, this show, narrated by Suranne Jones, also features Simon Cowell, Sinitta, Jason Donovan, Pete Burns, Sonia, Lamont Dozier, Kim Appleby and Steps.

Pete Waterman features in The Hit Factory: The Stock Aitken and Waterman Story, Monday, ITV1, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

Olympics Tonight BBC1, 10.40pm

Gabby Logan and guests look back on day 10 at the London Games, and present live coverage of the sports still taking place. These include the men's basketball group match between Argentina and favourites for the gold medal USA, and the men's super heavyweight boxing quarter-finals.

The review of today's action includes a look at the women's artistic gymnastics, including the women's uneven bars discipline, which should have featured three-time world champion Beth Tweddle chasing the Olympic glory that had eluded her so far in her career. There were also high hopes for Team GB at the Olympic Stadium today, with world champion Dai Greene likely to be in contention in the men's 400m hurdles final.

TUESDAY

Trash to Treasure ITV1, 7.30pm

These days, ITV1 has a habit of airing documentaries that are just as much entertaining as they are informative - this latest one not being any exception. Alas, all good things must come to an end and in the penultimate episode of the series, new boss of Ribble Reclamation has his work cut out in trying to convince Dale that merging his demolition business with the yard will see the big bucks rolling in. Meanwhile, festival organizer Sophie has an unusual request of Trev and Lee at Beeston Reclamation, which leaves the brothers with no choice but to approach a rival supplier.

World's Tallest Towers Channel 5, 8pm

It's a surreal sight standing a few feet from the Washington monument. The 150-foot patchwork quilt of bricks at the first section – the point where the money ran out in 1854 – followed by the rest of the sand-coloured obelisk is a sight to behold. Washington DC's iconic needle is just one of the structures featured in this one-off show, which also charts the construction of Canton Tower in Guangzhou, China. The programme-makers reveal how a series of engineering breakthroughs achieved in the creation of older structures made it possible. We see how advanced fire-fighting equipment protects the Chinese landmark against blazes, and cameras also focus on Paris' Eiffel Tower and Canada's CN Tower.

WEDNESDAY

Olympics 2012 BBC1, 7pm

Gary Lineker introduces this evening's athletics schedule at the Olympic Stadium. Having been born in east London, Perri Shakes-Drayton is very much a local favourite, and will surely be spurred on by the crowd if she has reached the 400m hurdles final. She went into the Games in good form, having recently run a new personal best at Crystal Palace that made her the second fastest Brit of all time behind 1992 Olympic gold medalist Sally Gunnell. However, the likes of Jamaicans Kaliese Spencer and Melaine Walker may still be too quick for her.

SuperScrippers Channel 4, 8pm

The Government's latest figures show that we're in the longest double-dip recession for 50 years, so we're all having to be that little bit more careful and tighten our belts. But does saving money have to be dull? Of course not! Here, Financial Times columnist Mrs

Money Penny provides more cash-saving tips, tonight showing viewers how to save on childcare costs and rented accommodation. Meanwhile, Daily Telegraph retail editor Harry Wallop highlights some of the pitfalls associated with buying a used car as he comes to the rescue of a couple whose second-hand motor wouldn't even start. And two best friends from Manchester take on the £50 Challenge as they limit their grocery spending and fit out their dream home.

Olympics 2012, Thursday, BBC1, 7pm

THURSDAY

Olympics 2012 BBC1, 7pm

Gary Lineker presents this evening's athletics action from the Olympic Stadium, where Jamaicans Usain Bolt and Yohan Blake are expected to battle it out again in the 200m final. Bolt broke Michael Johnson's long-standing world record at the 2008 Games, and has since lowered that time even further in the following year's World Championships. However, he could face stiff opposition from Blake, who became the second-fastest man in history over the distance last year and further stated his credentials when beating Bolt at the 100m and 200m in the Jamaican trials.

FRIDAY

Olympics 2012 BBC1, 7pm

Gary Lineker resumes presenting duties once again for the penultimate night of athletics at the Olympic Stadium. If she has progressed this far, Great Britain's Hannah England will be hopeful of winning a medal in the women's 1500m final, having finished second in the World Championships last year. Her chances of at least matching that achievement were increased when pre-Games favourite Mariem Alaoui Selsouli was banned after testing positive for a banned substance. Should they have reached the final, there will also be hopes of a Team GB medal in the final of the men's 4x400m relay, although the USA will go into the race as hot favourites.

IF YOU have deep pockets and need a large estate car with four-wheel drive, the option to meander off-road and a quality brand, there is only one option and that is the new Audi A6 Allroad.

Audi has honed 4-wheel drive quattro drive trains to perfection and the A6 Allroad with air suspension is a dependable, go anywhere product. This is the seventh generation and it differs from its sibling, the Avant estate, in several ways.

It has flared wings front and rear and stainless steel underguards at the front and the back of the vehicle. The wheel arches, bumpers, and extended sills are a contrasting colour, although you can order body coloured paintwork.

The A6 has extended use of aluminium for its body, this reduces weight and decreases running costs. Audi suggests that by this, and the engineers tweaking the engine derivatives, possibly 20 per cent lower emissions have been achieved.

The designers have smoothed the exterior and made it look not so much an off-roader as more a Grand Tourer. The interior of the new vehicle is typically Audi, with an air of quality that makes it superb to be cocooned in. It is curvaceous, it is luxurious: the leather, the stitching and the pipe work were all perfect.

The instrumentation is complex and involved, but if this was to be your Grand

By Bob Hickman

Tourer or your office you would soon become used to it. There is plenty of space and the ability to adjust the steering wheel and driver's seat means almost any size driver will be able to get comfortable.

The rear of the vehicle is comfy - two huge six-footers could fit without problems. Boot space is generous and there are points to attach straps or a cargo net.

The 60/40 split seats can expand the capacity, however they don't fold completely flat and are a bit awkward if you have huge amounts of luggage to move.

The Allroad's major attraction is its off-road facility and the wonderful air suspension which allows you to raise or lower the vehicle depending on the terrain. It can drop by 15mm for high speed motoring and gain 35 mm at the push of a button when you go off-road and need clearance. It has a hill descent function which will limit the speed depending on the surface.

The on-road price of the 3-litre 245bhp vehicle that we tested was £44,690 on the road but the actual vehicle we drove would have needed a cheque for £65,000.

The A6 Allroad will attract purchasers who like the brand, the ambience of its interior, the quality of its manufacture and like a vehicle that is understated. The range varies in price from £43,150 to £49,445.

Fuel duty delay is short-term relief

By David Banner

SO THE mighty have spoken and we get to keep a few more pounds in our pockets for another day.

News that the latest fuel duty price hike has been postponed will please anyone who has to dig deep to keep a car on the road.

Of course, like so many times before, this is merely a stay of execution for our bank balances. As far as making you feel grateful, this now regular political pantomime is up there with narrowly avoiding having to sit next to the rowdy hen party on a budget flight to Spain.

Maybe not this time, but you'll eventually have to witness copious consumption of alcohol, ear-splitting cackling and getting poked in the ribs with those angel wing appendages that appear to be all the rage with soon-to-be-married twentysomethings.

It's the same deal with fuel duty; we may not have to pay the planned extra 3p now but there's always next year when politicians need to fill yet another bailout-sized hole in the coffers.

Cynical? Me? Of course I am.

I'm not so naive that I believe every single penny spent at the pump goes on the road network, but I do resent that on the one hand we can be branded as polar-bear killers for even considering driving to the shops, yet if it weren't for that so-called irresponsible behaviour, the Treasury would be much poorer.

But here's the elephant in the room: what happens when the tax income from motoring isn't enough to fill the Treasury's black hole? In reality, it's happening already, with the generous tax breaks for cars with low CO2 and fuel consumption ratings.

With more cars qualifying for free road tax, the money's got to come from somewhere.

Fancy an electric car? Don't bank on low-cost electricity for ever if more people jump on the EV bandwagon. That's a 'fuel' begging to be taxed if the future sees an increase in battery-powered vehicles. And with the Government expected to rejig the current vehicle excise duty system, buying a sub-100g/km CO2 car will no longer guarantee you tax-free motoring.

The current announcement is cause for nothing more than a muted cheer, and such generosity from Westminster is likely to be in short supply as new and more complex ways are devised to generate revenue.

Of course, there's always the chance politicians will scrap the whole system and go down the 'pay as you drive' route and add a whole heap of tax to fuel.

If you think 3p is a lot now, you're in for a big shock.

The new Transit Custom can swap from work vehicle to people carrier

Everything was designed with the customer in mind

Workhorse shoulders a big load

THE ALL-new Ford Transit Custom introduces a new level of load-carrying ability to the one-tonne van segment with more space, more convenience and a range of innovative features.

Beneath its exterior, the new model remains true to its Transit heritage by offering class-leading load volume, together with a carefully improved load space designed to be versatile and practical.

The Transit Custom's unique loadspace features were developed by Ford engineers using feedback from customers about what they need from a one-tonne vehicle. "This may be a more stylish Transit, but it's a more functional Transit, too," said Barry Gale, commercial vehicles chief engineer, Ford of Europe. The additional features we have built into the loadspace make everyday functions more convenient – so it's easier for customers to do their job."

During the development process, Ford designers and engineers gave priority to combining the largest possible load box within the Transit Custom's dynamic and streamlined appearance.

Particular attention was given to the detailed design of the bulkhead and bodysides to increase the size and practicality of the load space.

This rigorous approach has ensured that the Transit Custom offers best-in-class load volume.

The SWB model is the only vehicle in its class capable of transporting three Euro pallets with a one-metre high load, which is not possible in the current SWB Transit.

Listened

The load-carrying capability of the new vehicle has been further improved by features which appear for the first time on the Transit Custom.

The Ford innovation team spent time with customers in their vehicles and listened to their input, then developed product ideas to meet their needs.

After customer reviews, the most successful ideas were developed for production.

The innovations in the Transit Custom include:

- A hatch in the bulkhead enables loads up to three metres long, such as pipes or ladders, to be safely carried inside a SWB Transit. A hinged opening (596mm x 205mm) at the foot of the bulkhead allows long items to be placed along the floor of the van, and to extend into a secure space underneath the dual passenger seat in the front cabin. LWB models can accommodate loads up to 3.4m long

- A roof-rack system seamlessly integrated into the roof. The system uses three transverse roof bars sited in recesses in the roof panel, which can be deployed when required. When not in use, such as when the owner is using the vehicle at the weekend, the cross bars can be quickly folded down, reducing drag and fuel consumption, creating a smarter appearance, and importantly, keeping the vehicle under two metres to comply with car park height restrictions (with the exception of the 330 series). The roof rack can carry loads up to 130kg.

- Locking check arms allow the rear cargo doors to be easily locked open at 90 degrees, to ensure they cannot be blown around by gusts of wind or passing vehicles while the driver is loading or unloading.

- Repositioned tie-down hooks and fixing points located on the side walls. By moving multiple DIN and ISO-compliant tie-downs on to the side wall, the floor is left clear of intrusions or recesses that can reduce the load area or make cleaning the floor harder.

- An easily cleaned floor liner offers enhanced durability and simple cleaning. Similar to the load-bed liner in a pickup truck, the sealed load liner is constructed of immensely strong material, and tailored to the shape of the floor, extending up to a height of 80mm around the sides of the load area. Not only is the liner easy to mop or sponge clean, it protects the steel floor from damage during loading and unloading.

- Ultra-bright LED lighting gives brighter lighting in the load box, such as when using the cargo area as a work space, with high output from four high-performance LED units.

A flat underfloor and sculptured wheel-arches have smoothed the air flow under the CR-V

Honda's new CR-V set for autumn showroom debut

HONDA has revealed images and further information on the new European CR-V due to be launched in the UK this October.

For the first time, the CR-V will be offered with a choice of both two- and four-wheel drive on the 2.0i-VTEC model, while improvements to the petrol and 2.2 i-DTEC diesel engines have achieved a significant reduction in carbon dioxide emissions.

The new CR-V will be in UK showrooms from October 2012 and it will continue to be built at Honda's production facility in Swindon.

With the rear seats folded flat, the boot capacity of the CR-V has grown by 148 litres to 1,648 litres and with the seats folded up, the boot capacity is a capacious 589 litres.

The load length has been increased by 140mm to 1,570mm, while the height of the load lip has been reduced by 25mm to make it easier to load heavy or awkward items.

The boot of the CR-V can now accommodate two mountain bikes or four sets of golf clubs.

Underfloor

The addition of a keyless entry system and the power tailgate make it easier to use the boot space and improves its practicality.

Within Honda's global CR-V line-up, this power tailgate is unique to the European market.

Adoption of a flat underfloor and sculptured wheel-arches have smoothed the air flow under the car, while a longer roof combined with aerodynamically optimised front bumper and rear spoiler help to manage the air flow over the body.

The result is a reduction in the drag coefficient by 6.5 per cent compared with the current CR-V to the benefit of performance, fuel consumption and exhaust emissions.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer.

1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News
Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Two Independent Members sought for West Midlands Police and Crime Panel

The West Midlands Police and Crime Panel are looking for two committed and energetic people to join them.
Do you have a genuine interest in policing? Can you be an independent voice alongside elected Councillors, to provide constructive challenge to the Police and Crime Commissioner? Are you willing to listen to the views of all sections of our local communities?

The West Midlands will be electing its first Police and Crime Commissioner on 15 November. He or she will be responsible for setting the priorities and resources for West Midlands Police, and supporting broader community safety activities.

The West Midlands Police and Crime Panel will publicly scrutinise the plans, budget and performance of the Police and Crime Commissioner.

If appointed to this voluntary position you will serve on the Panel until April 2016.

For more information and to download an application form visit www.birmingham.gov.uk/wmpcp
For an informal discussion please call Benita Wishart on 0121 303 1727.

Closing date for applications is 3 September 2012 and interviews will be held in late September.

Injury woe could hit the opener for Wood

A HECTIC three matches in five days completed Walsall Wood's friendly programme.

First Wood took on Hedsford Town at Oak Park and were in control against the young visitors, winning 5-2. A goal after three minutes from Andre Gonzales opened the scoring and finished with a first-half hat-trick. Amani Allen pulled one back before the break but two second-half strikes from Jowayne Thompson (one from the spot) put Wood out of sight before Neal Lennon got a second late on.

Then they travelled to Chasetown to take on the reserve team and won 4-2 after falling two goals behind. Chad Degville scored on eight minutes and Paul Sullivan three minutes later to put the Scholars 2-0 up. Corey Carruthers pulled one back on 14 minutes. Wood dominated the second half and goals from Jowayne Thompson, Jon Huckfield and a superb half-volley from Drew Aiton completed the comeback.

On Saturday, Wood went down 4-0 at Evo-Stik Sutton Town on their artificial surface. Wood fell behind to a Jamie Sheldon goal on 38 minutes. Matt Gardner scored on the hour and Luke Chapman six minutes later before a final strike by Carlos Thompson.

Wood lost three players to injuries that could affect the side for Saturday's opening match against Blackwood.

Khalsa hold on to their early lead

Barnmouth & Dyffryn United 2 Sporting Khalsa 3

WEST MIDLAND Regional Premier side Sporting Khalsa recorded another pre-season friendly victory, this time against Welsh Alliance League side Barnmouth & Dyffryn.

Khalsa scored after 15 minutes when Steve Thompson chipped the keeper from 15 yards. Khalsa extended the lead after 25 minutes through Sam Whitehurst. And Mark Habbershaw's volley made it three after 65 minutes.

Khalsa created several unconverted chances and as the home team revived they scored two late goals.

Khalsa start the league campaign on Saturday at Hereford side Pegasus Juniors.

Walsall go for double scoop

WALSALL have completed a double swoop with two Premier League youngsters signing at the Banks's Stadium.

Former Aston Villa youngster Connor Taylor and West Bromwich Albion's Paul Downing have both signed one-year deals following successful trial spells.

Taylor is a hard-working front-runner plucked by Villa from Coventry Sphinx. The 18-year-old has impressed for both the youth and reserve teams. Downing is a 20-year-old defender from Albion.

Having made it onto the first-team bench, he was then loaned out to a number of clubs to gain experience.

Leah and Dalefoot revel in horse show success

HEDNESFORD schoolgirl Leah Smith is celebrating after her success at the prestigious Royal International Horse Show.

The 15-year-old, a pupil at Kings Mead Technology College, shows her black fell pony Dalefoot Harry and the Hickstead event was their biggest ever.

They won the Ponies UK Young Rider large mountain and moorland championship, finishing top in a class of 18.

Leah had qualified for the Royal

Equestrian

International by winning her class at Hertfordshire County Show.

"This is only her second season trying to qualify for this, so she has done very well," said Leah's mother, Janine.

The partnerships' next target is the summer's qualifying competitions for the Horse of the Year Show at the NEC, Birmingham.

The show takes place during October.

Dominant Penkrige draw little comfort

Penkrige 247-4, Wednesbury 172-9. Draw

FOR the second time in two weeks, Penkrige firsts were left frustrated as they dominated a match but failed to collect maximum points.

After losing the toss, Penkrige made a solid start but the dismissal of Alex Watson (60) left them struggling at 94-4 with only 20 overs left.

A superb unbeaten partnership between Laeq Chishti (88 not out) and skipper Paul Szewczyk (62 not out) took them to 247-4. Wednesbury lost early wickets and were in severe trouble at 64-6.

However, Wednesbury held on to the draw at 172-9.

Penkrige 271-7, Wednesbury 223-6. Draw

Penkrige seconds made steady progress with good contributions. However, after a flurry of wickets it was left to old stagers Rob Lawrence (36) and Gary Pope (26) to rescue the innings with an unbeaten ninth-wicket partnership of 78 to set a commanding total of 271-7.

Wednesbury made a solid start and wickets were hard to come by for the Penkrige bowlers. To Wednesbury's credit they attempted to go for the win, but the reintroduction of Rich James (3-47) halted their charge and they settled for the draw.

Penkrige 218-6, Coseley 224-5. Coseley won by five wickets

Penkrige thirds went down to strong Coseley firsts after being put in. Penkrige made an excellent start to their innings, putting on 81 for the first wicket. Tight bowling restricted them to 218-6.

In reply, Coseley were never in any danger and knocked off the winning runs with 10 overs to spare.

Penkrige 162, Fordhouses 164-5. Fordhouses won by five wickets

Penkrige fourths finally saw some action in a frustrating season, but came unstuck against Fordhouses.

Asked to bat first, Penkrige lost early wickets but their innings was held together by young Joe Marsdon (55) and some agricultural hitting from old stager Nick Giles (21 not out). They finished on 162 all out.

In reply Fordhouses made a blistering start but some good bowling by Oli Deakin and Tom Porter pulled their side back into the game with two wickets each.

Not enough as Fordhouses won by five wickets.

HEDNESFORD TOWN pushed their local rivals and Conference outfit Tamworth close in a hard-fought friendly game at Keys Park.

A second-half rally by the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division side put real pressure on the away team.

Pitmen assistant manager Chris Brindley declared himself happy with his side's second-half performance.

And he praised the character of his team for coming back into the game after going into the break two goals down.

"Tamworth really showed their quality in the first half, but I've got to give credit to my team in the second half," he said.

"We could have folded, but we showed that we can fight and caused Tamworth problems."

Tamworth boss Marcus Law had a similar view but the other way round - happy with his team's performance in the opening 45 minutes but frustrated at the way they allowed The Pitmen control in the second.

"We applied ourselves very well in the first half and played in the right way, but we got sloppy," he said. "Unfortunately we stayed in the dressing room in the second half. It's a lesson that if you step off the gas, it's hard to get back on track after that."

Tamworth scored on 10 minutes with a delightful free-kick, curled around the defensive wall by Martin Kelly.

As Hednesford failed to close down their opponents in midfield, the away side scored a second on 44 minutes.

Hednesford T 1 Tamworth 2

The Pitmen hit back on 52 minutes and scored from a flowing move. Elliott Durrell looped a cross in from the right, Sean O'Connor climbed well at the back post and knocked the ball down for Neil Harvey to force Tony Breen into a superb block before lashing in the rebound.

Nathan Woolfe was again impressive for The Pitmen and his teasing cross, after tricky work on the left, set up Harvey but he failed to connect strongly enough.

Durrell tested Breen with a fizzing shot from distance with 10 minutes to go but Tamworth stood firm and held on for a victory which, due mostly to the improved second half performance by the home side, was trickier than expected.

The Pitmen host Vauxhall Motors on Saturday (3pm).

Hednesford Town: Crane, Disney, Campion, Osborne, Francis, Barnes, Durrell, MacPherson, Harvey, O'Connor, Woolfe. Subs: Ray, Bailey, Clarke, Melbourne, Dunleavy.

Top score innings is beaten in last over

Cannock 256-5, Fordhouses 260-6.
Fordhouses won by four wickets
 AN OUTSTANDING innings of 130 by Richie Hewitt which included four sixes and 17 fours was not enough to prevent Fordhouses winning an astonishing game of cricket in the last over.

A second wicket stand of 171 between Hewitt and John Cooke (67), together with 21 from Andy LeFeaver, enabled Cannock to post a total of 256-5.

This seemed to put them in pole position.

But Fordhouses kept up with the scoring rate as all their batsmen managed to make a start.

They needed 12 runs off the last over – and Ijaz Yousof (60 not out) hit three boundaries to win the game with just two balls remaining.

Andy Hawkins (3-67) was the most successful bowler for Cannock.

Cannock 318-7, Beacon 152-2.

Draw
 Cannock thirds moved to the top of the division with a winning draw at home to Beacon.

After losing the toss Cannock were asked to bat first against a young Beacon side and lost a wicket in the first over.

But despite the early setback, Aaron Wilkes scored a brisk 41 to put the innings back on track.

Ian Slyn was joined by Ant Wood before Slyn was bowled for 39.

A quickfire 22 from Kev Pearce and 27 from Ryan Pearce kept the scorecard ticking before Wood was sixth man out for 91.

Alex Rowe added 21 and at the close Steve Varker was 20 not out and Andy Twigger unbeaten on 10.

Two early wickets for Varker gave Cannock the best possible start.

But they proved to be the only wickets to fall.

Two of the Beacon youngsters, Zac Smith and Callum Westwood, kept the Cannock attack at bay for the remainder of the innings.

Smith finished with an excellent 102 not out with Westwood still there at the close on 30.

In the end Cannock were disappointed not to be able to win the game.

But the 14 points they received for the winning draw was enough to take them to the top of the division.

Church Farm Under-11s are involved in the bid to fund heart defibrillators at the club

Hearty target for club

CHASE football club Church Farm FC Under 11s are to take a hearty step towards raising enough money to buy several defibrillators for the academy this season.

Club chairman Dave Finch has also set the club an initiative of having several members, including coaches, parents and players trained in 'Heart Start' procedures.

It has been inspired by the recent horrific football incidents involving professional and amateur players having heart problems while playing.

The club is working closely with the NHS and Staffordshire FA to ensure quality training is provided and to help raise vital funds towards what are extremely expensive but life-saving pieces of first aid equipment.

Junior football

A working party consisting of parents and coaches are working hard trying to raise funds in the background through a variety of initiatives and sponsors McDonald's of Wall Island will also be taking an active part in the project.

A sponsorship deal between the fast food outlet and the club has been renewed.

The partnership has been very successful over the past three years, say the club, with lots of fundraising for the local community including a fun day to raise money towards the Ronald McDonald House and Birmingham Children's Hospital.

Lawley's ton helps C&R to a big win

Cannock & Rugeley 287-5 dec, Bloxwich 166.

C&R won by 121 runs

CANNOCK & RUGELEY continued their recent fine form in Staffs Clubs Division One with a comfortable win over Bloxwich on Saturday.

Losing the toss C&R got off to a blistering start adding 47 for the first wicket in five overs before Simon Hawkins was out for 12.

Fellow opener Rhys Morgan carried on bludgeoning the ball to all parts before being caught on the boundary for 82 made off only 52 balls including seven sixes.

Dan Mellor (42) and Adam Lawley then put together a partnership of 100 before Mellor's dismissal. Lawley went on to make his maiden century for the club, finishing on 111 enabling C&R to declare on 287-5 off only 42 overs.

The visitors struggled to make early inroads into the Bloxwich batting before a Dan Aston run-out made the breakthrough and from then on it was fairly plain sailing with no Bloxwich batter making above 25.

Greg Lawley with four-wickets and brother Nick with three were the pick of the bowling as the opposition were bowled out in 48 overs for 166.

Bloxwich 177, Cannock & Rugeley 180-3. C&R won by seven wickets

The seconds had an equally comfortable victory.

Bloxwich batted first and while a number of batsmen made starts, no-one went on to make a big score as they were bowled out for 177 in the last over.

Simon Cooper (2-30), Jock Caan (3-49), Dave Morris (3-63) and Dan Jones (2-13) did the damage.

The home side had little difficulty knocking off the required runs with Ali Fawcett (59) and Chris Saunders (52) putting on 129 for the first wicket.

Luke Farley then hit a quick 26 not out to see C&R over the line.

Woffy beaten into third spot

WOLVES speedway star Tai Woffinden was thwarted in his bid to win the British final at Monmore Green.

Coventry's Scott Nicholls took a record-breaking seventh title triumph ahead of team-mate Chris Harris with Woffinden third for the fourth year in five.

Tipton Town 1 Chasetown 1 HONOURS were even in this friendly between Chasetown boss Craig Harris' old side and his new outfit.

Lewis Haycock's fine goal gave Tipton Town the lead in their final pre-season match.

Following a quiet opening, Haycock met a superb cross by Kevin Montcheu to send home a bullet header beyond Chasetown keeper Ryan Price.

Tipton got what they wanted from the game – a competitive, combative match.

They displayed a combination of closing down quickly and constructive play against a team who play a step higher.

The team responded well against a Chasetown side looking for their first pre-season win, matching them tackle for tackle.

Tempo

Chasetown, whose tempo had been good in previous friendlies, were struggling to get their passing game going, but went close to an equaliser when Matt Jukes saw a header come back off the post.

But the home side threatened a second goal, heading over the bar from a corner, and then had a free-kick scrambled away as they sought to double their advantage.

Harris introduced Danny Smith and Jack Farmer at half-time, and it was the introduction of the former that saw The Scholars looking far livelier. Within a minute of the restart, Gary Hay fired over the bar and then it was Smith who set up the equaliser, drilling the ball across the box where Hay was on hand to rifle the ball home. Tipton had been waiting for a free-kick to be awarded for an offence earlier in the move.

Price made a great save to keep the scores level while, at the other end, Richard Teesdale headed a Mark Branch free-kick over the bar.

Chasetown: Price, Johnson (Westwood 68), Patrick (Farmer HT), Slater, Bate, Teesdale, Brown, Hands (Wright 68), Jukes (Smith HT), Hay, Branch.

First-half dominance scuppered by a draw

Hednesford Town 2 Sutton Coldfield Town 2
A SUPERB late free-kick by ex-Pitman Luke Chapman salvaged a deserved draw for Evo-Stik Northern League First Division South outfit Sutton Coldfield Town as Hednesford Town failed to capitalise on their first-half dominance in this friendly.

The home side, marshalled by assistant Chris Brindley, dominated the opening 45 minutes with left-winger Nathan Woolfe unplayable at times.

Early on Woolfe turned Jack Stone with ease and rifled a shot into the side-netting before bamboozling Joel Kettle and crossing superbly for Aaron Rey to head The Pitmen in front on 10 minutes.

Tally

Jamey Osborne hit a sweet volley from 20 yards which flew inches the wrong side of the post and Rey went close to adding to his tally.

Despite being second best in the first half, the away side scored an equaliser out of nothing on 39 minutes when Jamie Sheldon dug out a deep cross from the right and Chapman swept it in at the back post.

Sutton looked much more confident in the second period as a raft of substitutions disrupted Hednesford's rhythm and keeper Dan Crane twice made strong low saves from Carlos Thompson.

Substitute Sean O'Connor scored Hednesford's second goal on 79 with a left-foot shot from the right edge of the area.

It looked as if The Pitmen would hold on for a victory until Chapman scored a minute from time.

Hednesford welcome Vauxhall Motors to Keys Park on Saturday at 3pm.

Hednesford Town: Crane, Bailey, Campion, Barnes, Francis, Clarke, Melbourne, Osborne, Rey, Lennon, Woolfe. Subs: O'Connor, MacPherson, Durrell, Disney, Curleavy, Allen.

Sutton Coldfield Town: Hathaway, Male, Kettle, Hathorne, Stone, Lund, Sheldon, Richards, Thompson, Garden, Chapman. Subs: Flynn, Hanna, Gibbons, Tooth.

Attendance: 161.

Byrne batters rival bowlers

A QUICKFIRE 87 from former captain Paul Byrne helped Birmingham League Premier Division leaders Walsall to maintain top spot with a four-wicket win over Leamington.

Byrne struck 87 from 78 balls to help the Gorway men reach 283-6 in the 45th over of their reply to Leamington's 282.

More than Fair start for hockey squad

Club gives a chance to stick together

DELIGHTED hockey star James Fair helped the Team GB men's team get their London 2012 adventure off to a dream start.

Goalkeeper Fair and Co were eager to get under way at the capital's Riverbank Arena, having watched as the women's team thrashed Japan 4-0 to open their account just 24 hours earlier.

And it showed as the men got themselves off the mark with a 4-1 victory over Argentina, the goals coming from Richard Smith, Dan Fox and a double from captain Barry Middleton.

Fair is no stranger to the Riverbank Arena, having played there and finished fourth in May's test event. But the 31-year-old admitted running out in the iconic blue and pink arena under the bright Olympic lights was like nothing he had ever experienced before.

Olympics

"We played here at the test event but having a bigger crowd really does make a difference," Fair said.

"It obviously helps if we are a few goals up and we just had to keep concentrating on it because Argentina are a good side.

"But it was great to have so many people come and watch and it made a difference.

"Being a goalkeeper I am obviously closer to the sidelines than most so can hear the crowd.

"Normally we play away and get some boos - but all I got was loud cheers, so it was fantastic.

"We created loads of chances and on another day we would have liked to have scored a few more, but it is the first game so the result was all that mattered."

After waiting to make his London 2012 bow, the games now come thick and fast for the goalkeeper.

He was facing South Africa yesterday evening with Pakistan, Australia and Spain still to come before the knockout stages get under way. After blowing away the cobwebs, Fair admits he can't wait to get back out in front of the nation again.

"Maybe there were a few nerves in the camp as everyone really wanted to get going, so to go out there and play some attacking hockey was fantastic," he added.

"This game has given us confidence and the crowd really helped us out so we will go into it in good spirits."

COOL KRISTIAN IS A HISTORY MAKER

WOLVERHAMPTON gymnast Kristian Thomas has spoken of his joy after making history at the London 2012 Olympics.

The Wednesfield star, who trains at Earl's Gym in Halesowen, inspired Team GB's men to claim bronze in a day of drama at the North Greenwich Arena. It is the first time in 100 years that the men's team have taken an Olympic medal - since Stockholm in 1912 - and they almost ended up with silver.

Japan won their appeal against Kohei Uchimura's pommel horse score to take silver after Team GB initially sat second from the six events with 271.711 points.

And after the late-night drama Thomas, who scored a brilliant 16.500 on the vault, admitted he was in dreamland.

"I keep looking down at the medal and I'm amazed. I'm lost for words," said the 23-year-old afterwards. "We've won a medal but it still hasn't sunk in."

"I'm hoping once the next week is out of the way we can relax, take a moment and realise we've achieved one of the greatest things in the history of our sport."

Special

"I'm completely overwhelmed by the experience. Hopefully in a month I can sit back and take everything in and think I really have done something special."

"It's been 18 years of hard work, blood, sweat and tears - the graft in the gym, the early mornings and the before school training. We really have given it everything in the last few years."

"Even after I finished the floor (the final event) I wasn't 100 per cent convinced we had won a medal. "Until my score came up I couldn't think 'right, we have actually done it'."

Sam Oldham's fall on the high bar put Team GB's medal hopes in jeopardy but Thomas's 15.200 on the same apparatus and 15.433 in his floor routine sealed the bronze. He added: "I remember looking up and not even taking Sam's fall in."

"I stuck it to the back of my head and didn't even worry about it."

"When I was chalking up for bars I just thought, 'right this is just like any other situation in the gym, it's not as big an occasion as you think'."

"I just tried to play the whole situation down and that helped," said Thomas, who also competes in the individual events.

The former St Edmund's Catholic School pupil added: "We said before the start of the competition we needed to go out there, relax and enjoy it. I don't know if we did enjoy it - there seemed to be more and more pressure - but the ending was fantastic."

His mother Catherine said: "It's absolutely amazing. Who'd have thought it four years ago, GB getting a men's medal in the Olympics? It was unthinkable a few years ago and they have come so far in such a short time."

Wolverhampton-based judoka Gemma Howell went out of the under-63kg category when beaten by France's European champion Gevrisse Emame.

London Olympics 2012

Howell was warned for being too passive and then, with just seconds remaining, was disqualified for an illegal leg wrap.

Howell, who reached the Games despite a cruciate ligament injury just nine months ago, fought hard without success and said afterwards: "I don't have any positive thoughts right now."

"Maybe when I go home and look at it again I will, but right now I am just completely gutted."

"I did not come here to fight hard, I came here to win it."

Former Wolverhampton archer Alison Williamson suffered disappointment on both the team and individual fronts.

Team GB bowed out 215-208 to Russia in the first round while 40-year-old Williamson also went out at the opening stage. She took the opening set against Mongolia's Bishindee Urantungalag and shared the second one.

But after that, Urantungalag took three successive sets to win 7-3.

Kristian Thomas celebrates after Great Britain won the bronze medal in London

CANNOCK Hockey Club has caught Olympic fever after being the training camp to the Pakistan team in the run-up to the Olympics.

Now Chase Park is also hosting sessions to give hundreds the chance to pick up a stick and try the sport.

As part of Great Britain Hockey's Give it a Go programme, Cannock Hockey Club hosts events every Tuesday from 9.30am until 5.30pm for youngsters and adults. The sessions began on July 27 and run for five weeks.

Details are on a new website - www.hockeynation.info - and are supported by an 8am to 8pm hockey hotline, 0845 340 4000.

In England, the five-week Give it a Go programme culminates in the Harvester National Club Weekend, on September 1-2, which sees clubs open and welcome the local community.

Jamie Fleet, of Cannock Hockey Club, said: "The Olympic Games will be an incredibly exciting and inspirational time for the entire nation; we are proud to be a part of the Give it a Go programme and look forward to welcoming newcomers to our club, to pick up a hockey stick and enjoy the sport with their family."

Park is hosting tennis festival

A FREE tennis event is to be held at Chase Park, the home of Cannock Cricket and Hockey Club.

The Festival of Tennis takes place on Saturday, August 18. The junior event runs from 1-2pm and the adults' from 2-3pm.
